ROGERS WOULD LET "CHARLIE AND JOE" SPLIT THE BIG JOB

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Al paraded in his home town here Friday. His reception couldn't have been any bigger if he had swum the channel, or stowed away on an airship. He started the parade at 11 o'clock so early that Jimmy Walker had to accompany him in boudoir cap and pajamas. Smith presented Walker with the keys of the city.

Mrs. Al Smith paid us a lovely compliment by attending our show. Al was speaking, somewhere, too, but I guess she wanted to come and listen to reason one night out of the campaign.

I am for Curtis and Robinson splitting the vice presidency between 'em. It's really too much for one man to handle. They could take time about keeping their names before the public while the other one was acting as vice president.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Don't forget to go to the polls early, no matter what part of the city or county you may be in. There is everything to gain and nothing to lose by early voting, Tuesday.

Ministers in many of the pulpits of the city and county will speak at services tomorrow on the theme of the election.

Such a day to play football—It will be sloppy for the players to say the least.

It's not too late yet for you to do your share towards filling the Community Chest for this year. The eleventh hour drive is now under way.

Friday afternoon's inclemency brought more than the slop, slop, slop from the sky and of the automobiles oozing through puddles. It also brought the slop of galoshes flapping on the fair, trim ankles of the flappers and grandmothers. Galoshes made quite a debut yesterday. In fact, the first real debut of this season.

Ho, ho, ho, and a bottle of rum. Yes, several bottles and a couple of jugsful. Just a peek into the safe of a local alderman who has the stuff all labeled and ready for evidence in cases that are to come up. After this notice Pa Newc would not be surprised to hear of an alderman's office being robbed.

Rattlesnakes are a constant source or rather cause of interest, it seems. They never fail to attract a crowd. One in a local merchant's window stops things out front. Pa Newc observed that practically every passerby stopped to gaze at the buttoned animal.

Pa Newc observes: baldheaded man in obscure alley fixing his wig; a baldheaded barber recommending a tonic for falling hair (this is not a repetition of the old gag; it's true); man carrying armful of packages for the "half"; salesman drop contents from his brief case on sidewalk.

Firemen at the central fire station seem more than pleased with the new Pirsch fire truck which, after it is accepted by city council, will become the permanent property of the department. It is one of the most modern pieces of equipment now available and makes an addition to the department which will aid materially when a serious fire breaks out on its running schedule.

While the subject of garages is in mind, why not harp awhile on the colors of some gas stations? Many a beautiful country district is cheapened and practically ruined by the erection of a glaring colored shack all littered with even more glaring pop, cigarette and whatnot signs. It seems to Pa Newc that the clean appearing, well painted and artistic looking station, no matter how small, will get more business than the one described formerly. One road that Pa Newc

Belief Prevails Elfrieda Knaak Murder Victim

Coroner Says Concussion From Blow On Head Caused Death Of Woman

NEW EVIDENCE IS BEING UNCOVERED

Officials Test Furnace Story By Use Of Girl; Believed Slain Elsewhere

(International News Service)

LAKE FOREST, Ill., Nov. 3.—Following a report of Coroner John L. Taylor that Elfrieda Knaak had suffered a blow over the head which caused concussion of the brain before the burns which proved fatal were inflicted, the investigation into the circumstances surrounding her death was intensified today on the theory that she had been murdered.

With the report of a coroner's physician that the girl had been struck over the head and that her right arm had been broken prior to the burning, detectives announced these facts precluded any possibility the girl might have burned herself as she confessed, to "purify herself".

Has New Evidence

Edward Hargreaves, head of a private detective agency, assigned to the case, stated that he believed he was in possession of positive information that Miss Knaak was not burned in the basement of the police station, but had been tortured elsewhere and had been carried to the basement and left for dead.

A maze of evidence to support this belief was believed to have been unearthed by authorities.

The finding of a light colored hairpin (Elfrieda was a blonde) on the stairway leading to the attic of the Lake Bluff police station late yesterday, only added to the baffling mystery.

Test Conducted

For authorities have come to the conclusion that the girl had been attacked and burned before she was brought to the police station. They base their deduction on tests of a girl who found it impossible to stand unaided on the floor of the basement and insert her leg into the furnace as Elfrieda claimed she had done.

The girl conducting the experiments also closed the basement doors and screamed at the top of her voice, but her cries were not heard outside, proving that the basement was practically sound proof.

Other elements which cast further doubt upon the victim's story that she had voluntarily placed herself up-

FIVE OFFICIALS SENT TO PRISON

District Attorney Monaghan To Spare No One In Gigantic Probe

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Prison bars today enclosed the first six men who were convicted of rum grafting as the special "racket" jury closed its 11th week of probing the activities of Racketeers and grafting policemen and the end of the probe is not in sight. Fifty more bluecoats face trials on extortion and bribery charges.

Meanwhile the six men given prison terms yesterday and hustled away to the county jail at nightfall are doing the utmost that money and the best legal talent can do in an effort to secure their freedom.

To Election Boards

With the immense ballot to be used next Tuesday, election boards will be doing a service if they will count the votes for president and the elective offices, before the amendment vote is tabulated.

All are eager for the returns of the presidential election, and boards can aid in speeding up these returns if the ballots are counted in this manner.

When you have any totals in your precinct on president, or other elective offices, call 4000, The News and report at once. You will be adding your share to the co-operation that will make early returns on the election possible.

Election boards should also remember that they are required by law, to post a return sheet on the outside of the precinct voting place, when the count is completed. In some instances in recent elections this has not been done.

Explains Purpose Of Bond Issue Vote In Scott Township

In connection with the vote to be taken in Scott township on next Tuesday for school purposes, The News is in receipt of the following explanatory statement:

Scott Township Bond Issue

A short time ago an article appeared in The New Castle News regarding the Scott township school bond issue to be voted on November 6.

The article referred to stated that the intention was to consolidate all the schools in the township, which is not the case.

The school buildings in the village of Harlansburg have been condemned by the State Department and a relocation recommended. The school board has asked for a vote on a bond issue for the sum of $34,000 in order to secure land and erect a building thereon suitable to accommodate a four-year high school and the grade schools now located in Harlansburg.

The members of the school board do not favor consolidation of all the schools in the township at the present time and wish to correct the erroneous impression which the voters have received from the above mentioned article.

Drunken Drivers Cannot Expect Court Leniency

Judge Hildebrand Makes This Plain In Sentencing Prisoners This Morning

JAIL SENTENCES GIVEN TO EACH

For driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, S. H. Williams, a New York state traveling salesman, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months by Judge R. L. Hildebrand in court this morning. Petition for parole in 15 days will be entertained upon the payment of fine and costs. A plea was made in behalf of Williams to the effect that no one was injured in a slight accident that befell Williams. Judge Hildebrand made it plain, however, that persons who attempt to drive automobiles while under the influence of liquor, will receive jail sentences when apprehended in Lawrence county. Judge Hildebrand stated that the safety and welfare of motorists must must be protected. There can be no reasonable excuse for a man who drinks liquor and then puts the lives of others in jeopardy.

C. J. Taylor, who was arrested on the same charge, was sentenced to pay $200 and costs and undergo imprisonment for three months. He was arrested on October 20. Petition for parole will be entertained in 30 days upon the payment of fine and costs. Leniency for Taylor was urged on account of his family, but Judge Hildebrand said that he ought to have thought of his family before drinking the liquor.

Chest Workers Will Make Final Effort For Goal

Fund Passes $60,000 At Report Meeting On Friday Evening

TEAMS TO ASSEMBLE MONDAY EVENING

Enthusiastic That Quota Of $80,000 Will Have Been Raised

Almost $6500 more was added to the New Castle Community Chest Friday evening, when about 200 loyal team captains and workers, undaunted by the condition of the weather, attended the sixth report meeting, which took place in the east dining room of The Cathedral. There is now $60,533 in the chest.

Although the crowd was smaller than that which attended any other meeting this year, it made up what it lacked in size by the enthusiasm of those who did attend the meeting. Roll was not called, so that the agencies are not penalized for not attending the meeting.

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, acting general chairman of the drive in the absence of Robert C. Love, presided after the dinner was over and the reports taken by Herbert Peairs, the director of the campaign and his assistant, L. H. McCamic.

Advance Gifts Smaller.

"At Community Chest headquarters on the third floor of the Greer building, lists of people who have given but who have not duplicated their last year's pledges, will be placed," declared Mrs. Johnson. "I would like for every Community Chest worker to consult these lists, check off the names of the prospects that he or she will undertake to get, and then go out and get them.

"The advance givers have given less this year than they did last," continued Mrs. Johnson. "That is where the deficit lies. These people should

It was announced at the time that the Booster Day exercises would be held on Saturday, November 17, when Beaver Falls High School will meet New Castle here. The same program with added features will be carried out.

Youth Confesses Killing Of Girl In New York City

Mother Makes Gruesome Discovery Of Daughter's Body On Return From Work

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—One of the many murder mysteries which have confronted police during the past 36 hours was cleared up today when Vincent Rice, 17, of Hamptonville, Staten Island, confessed that he had strangled Alice Josst, fifteen-year-old school girl, when she repulsed his advances in her home. Police said they had obtained a full confession.

Vincent told the authorities, they said, that he had been Alice's sweetheart, but that they had quarreled last Tuesday. The young girl was a sophomore in the Port Richmond high school.

The youth, son of an inspector in the street cleaning department, struck Alice down when she repulsed him in the bedroom of her home, according to the confession given out.

At the time of the killing Alice's mother, Mrs. Lucie Josst, a widow was away at work. Neighbors said that during the day they heard the girl playing the piano in her home. But when the mother returned she found her daughter's body partially hidden in the bedroom. A wire tightly wrapped about her neck.

HOOVER ENLIGHTENS MID-WEST FARMERS

If Elected Hoover Promises Relief To Farm Belt; Threatens Special Session

(International News Service)

ABOARD HOOVER SPECIAL, En ROUTE TO PUEBLO, Nov. 3.—As Herbert Hoover sped westward through Kansas and Colorado today en route to his home in Palo Alto, he awaited with confidence, according to his intimates aboard their "victory special", the reaction of the agricultural battleground to his promise to call a special session of Congress, in event he is elected, to deal definitely with the bugaboo of farm relief before the next harvest.

Would Summon Congress

"I am hopeful that in the December session of Congress it will be possible to reach that solution," he declared to an audience of 17,000 in St. Louis Coliseum last night, to which he had outlined his specific relief plan of four district projects or methods. "However, if this is not possible, I would call a special session."

Running at top speed through the early hours today through the home state of his runningmate, Senator Charles Curtis, Hoover was acquainted with the fact that Kansas farmers this year have already marketed 180,000,000 bushels of wheat.

His schedule today called for nine stops, including Pueblo tonight, where his brief talk will be devoted to problems of regional interest in the Rocky mountain states.

Society Woman Persists In Oil Drilling Efforts After Six Failures And Strikes Wealth On Seventh Attempt

MRS. KORK KELLEY

(Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News)

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 3.—Pouring up from the sand more than 2,000 feet underground at the rate of $1,000 worth a day, oil is making Mrs. Kork Kelley, Wichita Falls society matron, wealthy.

Six times she has bossed crews of roughnecks in the oil fields in the work of drilling wells on an oil lease she holds in Waggoner's "pasture", Wilbarger county, about 50 miles west of Wichita Falls, and six times she has seen her hopes and efforts end with defeat. She brought in six "dusters" or dry holes.

Undaunted by these reversals, Mrs. Kelley, who looks more like one to grace a tea table at an afternoon bridge party than a "boss" in the oil fields, sent the drill down for the seventh time and at last she has hit "pay".

The scene of her drilling activities is a lease on a part of the famous Waggoner ranch, owned by a family of Texas cattle barons, on whose vast expanse scores of wells have been brought in. She has been living in a shack on this lease instead of enjoying the comforts of her residence in Wichita Falls.

Her husband, Kork Kelley, is a successful oil drilling contractor. Kelley has brought in a number of wells for producing companies in the Texas fields, but the venture in the Waggoner "pastures", as the big ranch is called, is Mrs. Kelley's own.

Lay Cornerstone Of New School

Ceremony Takes Place At Hillsville On Friday Afternoon

NEW SCHOOL WILL BE FINE STRUCTURE

Despite a drizzling rain that made it uncomfortable for the spectators, several hundred Hillsville citizens attended the exercises attending the laying of the corner stone of the new Hillsville school, which was held Friday afternoon, November 2.

Because of the rain the program was shortened considerably but even with its brevity there was an impressiveness about it that no weather could destroy.

James P. Eakin Presides

The exercises were presided over by James P. Eakin, president of the school board, who has been active in the cause of education in Mahoning township. The speakers of the day were Mr. Eakin, County Superintendent John C. Syling and Assistant Superintendent Charles F. Ball. Both of them paid tribute to the foresight and initiative of the Mahoning township people in providing such

Governor Smith Makes His Final Address Tonight

Will Speak At Madison Square Garden In His Final Bid For City

HOOVER EN ROUTE TO CALIFORNIA HOME

President Coolidge Announces Support To Hoover In Telegram

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The final salvos of campaign oratory will be fired tonight throughout the nation, signalizing the end of the most turbulent and remarkable Presidential contest in the history of American politics.

The tumult and the shouting is just about over. Ahead lies decision.

Smith's Final Thrust.

Governor Smith will close his active campaigning tonight in his own New York with a speech in Madison Square Garden which will be a summation of his whole fight for the presidency. It will be a smashing, aggressive speech and an historic occasion, with the entire nation in the audience.

While Governor Smith is delivering his final thrust, his opponent, Herbert Hoover, will be travelling westward on the longest journey that any presidential candidate ever undertook in order to cast his vote.

Hoover Is Cheered.

Secretary Hoover delivered his last major speech of the campaign in St. Louis last night before an enthusiastic audience that hailed him as the next president, and heard from him an outline of what he expects to accomplish after the fourth of March next.

No sooner was the Republican candidate off the air than Governor Smith was on it. His next to last major speech concerned itself with the state campaign in New York, where Governor Smith's personally drafted candidate for Governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, is making a fight on a Smith platform. It is unusual for a presidential candidate on the eve of election to participate in a stage campaign, but New York is vital to his cause next Tuesday.

Coolidge Endorses Hoover.

President Coolidge, whose sphinx-like silence throughout the campaign has puzzled and disappointed the Hoover leaders, got into the fight at last with a statement endorsing the Hoover candidacy in warm terms and predicting its success.

"You have shown your fitness to be president," Mr. Coolidge said in a telegram to Mr. Hoover at the conclusion of his St. Louis speech. "Your success in the campaign seems assured, and I shall turn over the great office of president to your keeping sure that it will be in competent hands in which the welfare of the people will be secure."

The Coolidge message both surprised and elated the Republican managers, for the silence of Mr. Coolidge concerning the Hoover candidacy has been a continual source of embarrassment to them. They united in declaring today that if anything had been needed to clinch matter the Coolidge telegram did it.

The Democratic reply to this was that Mr. Coolidge's hearty endorse-

C. Of C. Directors Will Meet With Chest Officials

Meeting Called By Chamber Of Commerce At Eight O'clock This Evening

Ira M. Ramsey, president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, is calling a meeting of the board of directors of that organization to meet this evening with Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, general chairman of the Community Chest drive, Herbert Peairs, director and William C. Moody, president, in the Chamber of Commerce suite in the Greer building.

The directors are meeting with these officers of the Chest to devise ways and means to give every possible support to the completion of the Chest drive which is hoped to be made Monday.

According to James W. Cole, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, that organization has played an important part in the organization of the Chest and assure the directors of the campaign that they will give every possible support to it.

At the meeting this evening, they will give every possible support to the Chest organization and aid in furthering the work until the completion of the campaign for funds.

The Community Chest, stated Mr. Cole, in speaking for the organization, "is the most economical way possible that these civic organizations may be maintained. It is economical in both work and money and the Chamber of Commerce will give it every possible aid in securing funds for the continuance of the splendid work.

"The work in this city has been under competent heads and the management has been such that a great saving has been made. We are glad to support this organization and will do all in our power to further the work already started.

SPECIAL PROGRAM AT HIGHLAND CHURCH

Attorney R. L. Wallace of this city will give a temperance address in the Highland United Presbyterian church during the assembly hour at 10:30 Sunday.

Preceding the evening service the church organist Miss Lillian Sarver will present a 15 minute organ recital. Miss Sarver has given a number of recitals before the evening service during the fall months and her special numbers have been appreciated by the congregation.

CHEST WORKERS WILL MAKE FINAL EFFORT FOR GOAL

give to the limit of their ability, and it is up to the workers to see that they do so.

"Sunday, November 4, speakers with pledge cards will appear in all of the churches of New Castle. At the church services people again will be asked to contribute to the chest fund, and there is a possibility that an offering will be taken especially for the benefit of the chest.

"Then, I want every loyal Community Chest worker to attend a report dinner here in The Cathedral Monday evening at 6:15. I am sure by that time the chest will be over the top.

Will Not Quit.

"Do you want to quit now? I am sure that when you go through the downtown section of the city and see the chest signs where the American flag is on national holidays that you do not want to quit. 'To care is to give.' We cannot face those signs and then fail in the drive to put the chest over. We cannot do it!

"Community Chest headquarters will be open Sunday afternoon from 2 until 6 o'clock. Every loyal supporter of New Castle should go out and work Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Work on the people who have cut their subscriptions. Then Monday evening I am sure that we can report success."

Mr. Peairs, the director of the campaign, then explained that each division has been assigned a list of the advance givers who had cut their subscriptions below the amounts that they gave last year. But, he added, some are doubling. Then he asked the workers to go out and work, to explain the cause. Mr. Peairs also expressed himself as confident that the campaign would be a success when the report meeting took place Monday evening.

Frank Brenneman at this time asked the workers that they not only get the givers to increase their subscriptions, but to double them.

"There is no law against doubling subscriptions," he concluded. "There is no law against increasing subscriptions. Let us go out and work, not for the amounts that the people gave last year, but let us get them to give even more than that."

Mr. Peairs stated that the people whose names he had read at the Thursday noon luncheon meeting had all given to the support of the chest.

Chest Eliminates Much Work.

"Before the Community Chest idea hit New Castle there were three months out of every year that I had to carry cards in my pocket. There were three months out of every year that I had to ask people for money. But now, the chest has stopped all that," were the statements of Robert A. McKinney, speaker of the evening.

Mr. McKinney told of several instances where people had given to the chest when he knew personally that they could not afford it. He also told how other cities put over their community chests and how New Castle could not fail at this time.

"There is a day ahead when all this work that you people are doing will be reckoned for you," he concluded. "The thing that counts in this life is the good you do for the other fellow. Go out and work. The things in this life that count are the things that you put your blood into."

"Yes," said Mrs. Johnson at the close of Mr. McKinney's address, "all that goes out with us when we die is that which we do for others.

"I want to ask all of you," Mrs. Johnson concluded as she adjourned the meeting, "to pledge to do your best. Let us see what we can do by Monday evening. Success can be ours—if we work!"

tioned all night in police headquarters and then released.

Police gave the impression that the seventeen-year-old boy had cleared himself of suspicion, but he was secretly followed to his home by a detective. Shortly before noon today police reappeared at the Rice home and took the youth and his father to the scene of the crime.

Acting Inspector Van Wagoner and several detectives were alerady there. The boy was haggard and pale as he entered the doorway, and clung close to his father. A few minutes later a detective emerged to announce that Vincent had confessed to the horrible crime. Stenographers were immediately summoned, and a formal confession drawn up.

The confession came just 15 hours after Mrs. Josst had entered her home to find the battered and lifeless body of her young daughter lying in blood-stained clothing and bed clothes, half under the bed.

Alice had been felled with a heavy blow from some blunt instrument and then garroted with a length of insulated electric cord twisted tightly about her neck.

Tells of Attack

Rice, said he strangled Alice when she repulsed his advances in her home.

"I knew she was at home, alone—that her mother was away in New York at work," he sobbed to police officials, "so I called, after a while I made advances to her.

"She objected angrily, and I slapped her. I hit her in the face and on top of the head. She fell near the bed;

"I went to the kitchen and took the electric cord from the flatiron. I wound it around Alice's neck. By this time she was unconscious.

"To make it look more mysterious I tried to wind the other end of the cord around a chair. But the wire wasn't long enough.

"I then fled."

Monday Is Voluntary Givers Day For Chest; Headquarters Open

With Mrs. H. L. Gordon and Mrs. S. W. Perry as co-chairmen, Voluntary Givers' Day for the New Castle Community Chest will take place Monday morning and afternoon in the parlors of The Castleton, it is announced this morning at Community Chest headquarters.

Voluntary Givers' headquarters will open promptly at 10 o'clock Monday morning and remain open until 6 o'clock in the evening. During this time all the people of New Castle who have not given to the Chest this year, or feel that they can boost their subscriptions are asked either to come to the hotel in person or telephone their subscription to the headquarters.

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson has taken charge again this year, but that alone does not spell success," stated Herbert Peairs, director of the drive when commenting on the Voluntary Givers' Day. "These institutions belong to New Castle, and they should be supported by New Castle. One woman alone cannot put over the drive. She asks all the business and professional men of the city to donate liberally at this time, probably one of the most trying in the history of the Chest idea in New Castle.

"People must realize that the organizations which belong to the Chest are not the property of certain individuals or group of individuals. They belong to the community as a whole, and they should be supported by the community as a whole.

"One woman cannot put it over alone. But the citizens of New Castle, if they band together in this project for the good of the community, can put it over, and if they think anything of Mrs. Johnson's personality as a leader, they will put it over.

"Perhaps this will be the last chance that anyone will have to give voluntarily to the Chest. Everyone should. Every citizen of New Castle, who can see into the future; who can see New Castle as it will be ten years from now, knows that it will expand; knows that it will grow larger. Everyone knows the Community Chest will grow larger as the city expands. This year, the agencies are asking for less than they ever did before. We cannot fail now. We must give, and give Monday at The Castleton."

ward leader and state representative, who was fined $7,500 and given a five-year prison term, was to go before the superior court today to have the high court review 37 motions for a new trial which were rejected by Judge James G. Gordon. The high court will be asked to let the appeal act as a supersedeas permitting Patterson's freedom on bail while it is being argued. If this appeal fails the only recourse will be the state supreme court.

No Hope of Pardons

The others and their sentences were: Capt. William C. Knoell, 3 years, $10,000 fine; Capt. Charles Schoenleber, 4 years, $10,000 fine; Detectives Herbert Layer, 3 years, $3,000 fine, John Sells, 18 months, $2,500 fine, and Albert Long, state witness, six months and $750 fine.

It was considered significant today that the entire group was sentenced to the county prison thus preventing any chance of them securing pardons before serving their complete terms.

WHEN YOU VOTE

On Tuesday, November 6, your vote will be cast for a number of offices, both of national and state importance. Among them will be that of representative in the General Assembly.

Because this officer is the direct representative of the people of New Castle in the General Assembly his selection is of importance to the city.

Your vote should not be based upon personalities, but upon the best interests of this city.

The state government of Pennsylvania is Republican and will be Republican in the next General Assembly. If New Castle and Lawrence County are to be properly represented, if the district is to get its proper recognition, then the representative should be a Republican.

It's a matter of efficiency, of cold dollars and cents.—There has been a custom in vogue for many years in this district whereby a representative has been returned for his second term, usually without opposition. This because any first termer is more or less handicapped by inexperience. I am just finishing my apprenticeship of the first term, and if re-elected on Tuesday, November 6, I believe that experience will be of value.

I am the Republican nominee for the General Assembly.

Despite the fact that there are several hundred gas stations and wayside service outfits on the roads and streets of the county, the day of the two bit garage is passing. H. C. Stockman, assistant fire chief, and an ardent hunter, wants to make a suggestion to farmers whose orchards are ravished by marauding deer during the winter months. The biological survey, he says, tells the farmers to place a piece of cloth which has been placed in sheep dip on every tree. The cloth should be suspended by a wire so that it does not touch the tree. The survey says that this will keep the deer at a distance and needs to be renewed only every six weeks.

National Republican Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT
HERBERT C. HOOVER, of California

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
CHARLES CURTIS, of Kansas

HOOVER CERTAIN TO WIN

THE secret ballot is one of the virtues of the American election system and how any citizen votes is known to no one but himself, and yet the public "knows" today that Tuesday a great horde of men and women will surge to the polls to make Herbert Hoover the next president of the United States. For days the people have had the "feel" of the situation.

The certainty of Republican victory accounts for the prevailing pre-election calm. Business and labor feel reassured by the prospect of the continuance of the present tariff policy, which has protected capital and labor alike.

Election of Mr. Hoover holds forth the promise of greater prosperity for the American people. It will mean retaining for the largest business in the world—the United States government—this executive and organizing genius. The people have found indispensable the services of this public servant and will not discharge him. In him they have found a man worthy to succeed President Coolidge, another man they have been loath to release from public service.

Millions will go to the polls tomorrow to cast a dual vote—for the Hoover brand of Republicanism and against the Tammany brand of Democracy. There are two forces behind each Hoover vote, the force of his own personality and ability and the force of Republican policies.

Hoover's farm vote will confound the Democratic cohorts and throw their camp into confusion. The Republican nominee's eleventh-hour tour across country convinces the wheat, corn and cotton growers that no other man is better equipped and more eager to bring them relief. Their assurance is in his pledge to call congress into special session should the short session this winter adjourn without passing necessary farm legislation.

Reviewing the long and strenuous campaign, the voter discovers the explanation for Republican victory. He sees the reason in the party's platform, in the party's alliance with the popular side of every issue, in the fair and honest campaign conducted by the party and its candidates, in the refusal of the great body of electors to be fooled by "sham battles" and Democratic smokescreens.

Mr. Hoover's campaign has been dignified, comprehensive and effectual. His one hope and purpose were to carry himself and the issues before the people. His aim was not to put on a good show for an easily agitated populace.

America is a high-tariff nation and its people are not easily impressed by a sudden change of the Democratic heart on the tariff question. There is widespread doubt in the sincerity of the Democratic campaign promises on the protective tariff. Prior to this campaign Governor Smith frequently voiced his belief in the benefits of free trade. And was not the Underwood bill drafted after the Democratic party had pledged itself to safeguard the interests of business and wage-earners?

With his wet views Governor Smith bid for a sectional vote without getting very far. The anti-prohibition plank on which he stands was rejected by his own party convention and is destined to meet with similar opposition in Tuesday's election.

Election of Herbert Hoover, master of emergencies, to the highest office in the land Tuesday will be cause for general jubilation and satisfaction. It will carry the nation through a crisis. His majority should be so overwhelming as to prevent the recurrence of that crisis.

GRAF ZEPPELIN'S RECORD TRANSATLANTIC CROSSING

GRAF Zeppelin no longer can be accused of being a tary traveler. In forty-eight minutes less than three days she completed the transatlantic crossing from Lakehurst, N. J., to Friedrichshafen on the southern border of Germany. She deliberately loitered on her passage over Europe so that she might arrive at her hangar at a favorable hour for mooring. Finally, two hours were wasted in circling over the landing field.

The west wind which had balked her on the journey to this country carried her back to Europe at accelerated speed. She covered more than 4400 miles at an average speed of about sixty-five miles an hour. On her round trip she covered approximately 10,700 miles in 183 hours. The westbound course was about half again as long as the eastbound return trip. That shows the uncertainty that must always attach to transoceanic airway schedules, either for airplanes or airships. They must seek the most favorable air line, and that may be anywhere over a wide range of latitude. But handicapped as was the Graf Zeppelin by this condition, her performance is far beyond the range of any ship.

It is typical of our acceptance of marvels of human accomplishment in this generation that the safety and efficiency of the Zeppelin on her flight to Europe were taken pretty much for granted.

A vast field for pioneering awaits her captain, but it is likely that he will choose the seas where weather conditions are efficiently reported. Meanwhile he is convinced that the transoceanic airways will not be really conquered until he has a larger and far more powerful craft to combat contrary winds.

Some Other News.
Get Aboard.
One R. R. Engineer.
Fat On 45 Cents a Day.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Herbert Hoover goes home to California, winding up his hard campaign on the journey, certain of election next Tuesday. President Coolidge wishes him a safe return.

Alfred E. Smith returns to his home, little old New York, to wind up his campaign there, certain that he will be elected.

Robinson and Curtis are certain that they will be elected and everybody is happy. Next Tuesday will change that, for two.

Two days ago Wall Street gave odds that Smith would carry New York state. Odds have changed to 11 to 10 on Hoover. When Wall Street sees the crowd at Gov. Smith's farewell Madison Square demonstration odds may change again.

Only two and a half days left for trading before election and Thursday night Wall Street went to bed as cheerful as a young roe upon the mountain top.

Good news here and there for those that "got aboard" while the chariot was swinging low.

Illinois Pipe Line company changed its dividend rate from $12 to $20. That stock jumped like a lady that sees a mouse.

Another company paid a stock dividend of 300 per cent. New Jersey zinc announced an extra dividend, the second within six months.

Automobile companies established new records for October. Buick that knows how to advertise, as well as manufacture, shipped 28,614 cars last month, against 26,800 in September, and 23,000 a year ago. Ford is 5,500 cars per day.

And so it goes. DON'T SELL SHORT.

An important thing is to know when "to get aboard." In buying real estate or stocks, in joining others in any undertaking, make up your mind and then GET ABOARD.

Keep in mind young Terhune,, the stowaway caddie on the Zeppelin.

He GOT ABOARD and as a result he is the only passenger of whom the world talks, the only one to derive any profit from his trip, although it cost him nothing.

William R. Hammill, locomotive engineer on the Reading, ran his engine 40 years, less five minutes, without injury to human life.

Running the "Boardwalk Flier", Hammill pulled into Camden for the last time, prepared to pull off his gloves and attend a dinner given in honor of his retirement.

Then an automobile drove on the tracks. Hammill, still alert after after 51 years of railroad service, and 40 years as an engineer, cut the steam, threw on the air and emergency brakes, but in vain. A man was taken from the wreckage, dead. Not Hammill's fault, but he said it spoiled his career. Hammill had driven a locomotive 2,500,000 miles.

It was nice to give him a dinner and a small pension for the few years he has left. But 51 years railroading, with 40 years of locomotive driving, seems a long time to wait for retirement on small pay.

What this country wastes would feed feed any nation in Europe, except, perhaps, Russia. Waste in money and food is BAD MANAGEMENT.

Girls in Pennsylvania's State college, practicing thrift and good management, complain that they gain weight. Although their food costs them for "three good meals 45 cents a day." One day's meals were: Breakfast, grapes, hot cereal, top milk, cinnamon toast, coffee; luncheon, vegetable soup, apple, date and cabbage salad, bread, butter, milk; dinner, veal cutlets, creamed cabbage, mince pie.

There is plenty of production in this country, but distribution is too expensive.

Good wages are paid, but are spent unwisely, without thrift.

Miss Elfrieda Knaak was found dreadfully and fatally burned in the basemen of the Lake Bluff, Ill., police station, early on Tuesday.

No screams had been heard while her legs and arms were held inside the furnace, burning.

In her delirium, dying, she cried: "I did it myself for faith, for purity, for love." She was in love with a handsome policeman.

The doctors refused to amputate the legs, and the woman's death seemed inevitable, and the authorities are "inclined to the belief that it would have been impossible for her to endure such agony inflicted by herself. Others must have tortured the unhappy woman."

They little know the power of remorse and religious fanaticism. Cranmer, before he was buried alive, bitterly regretting that he had signed a recantation of his faith, held his right

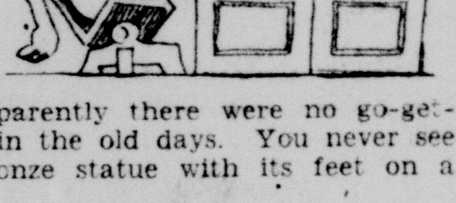
Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:55. Sun rises tomorrow 6:34.

Say, Mr. Man and Mrs. Woman make your plans right now to get to the polls as early as possible after 7 o'clock in the morning and get your vote in. If you do this you will not only be helping yourself but also helping some other human.

People who take checks from people they do not know get very little sympathy from the police or anybody else if they find the check n. g. Taking checks from people one knows often is bad. Watch your step, watch your checks and be good to your wife—get her plenty of nice clothes.

It is said that good health helps to aid prosperity. States and cities that take great care in keeping up healthy conditions do a lot toward helping along good living conditions. One invalid in a family handicaps the whole family.



Apparently there were no go-getters in the old days. You never see a bronze statue with its feet on a desk.

LINES TO A CHILLY LADY

by Franklyn Blanning.

Love may be a joy today
And next week a sorrow.
Who are you that you can say,
"Love me on the morrow?"

Give love not your fears today,
But smother them in bliss;
Old age never will repay
The raptures that you miss.

Kisses that are near today
May not always linger,
Cold lips never did display
Gold bond on third finger.

Love begs on his knees today,
Gives voice to sweet amour;
Take him now or he may stray
To warmer temperature.

Do not forget that our day
Is known for eager misses.
Shall I go or shall I stay
To get my share of kisses?

For over 30 years a California woman posed as a man, worked as a sailor (omigosh) adopted a son and married a woman. We would like to see the "man" she married.

We are told that there is a big crop of turkeys this year. Maybe that will be the reason for the high price asked for them. It's liver and tripe for us if the price is high.

When he forgets to kiss the wife every time he leaves she thinks he has several others around the corner somewhere.

Some one asks "Why is Hallowe'en?" Search us.

The path to glory seems to have mighty poor terminal facilities.

Mr. Webster in his famous book says that a dumb waiter is an elevator for carrying dishes. He is wrong. A dumb waiter is a guy that asks a girl for a kiss, and then waits for it.

If Mr. Coolidge had been president during the war you would not be paying the taxes you are now paying and the cost of living would have been less since the war. The Democrats were extravagant and wasteful.

It's a wonder there isn't more crime committed considering how mean everybody feels on Monday morning.

What has become of the investigation that was to be started instantly about bringing to justice, or whatever it ought to be called the people who live in Pennsylvania and operate their automobiles with Ohio licenses. So far we have not heard of any one being pinched for that and it surely is not because there are none such.

There's no question but that children received better marks in school when the hickory switch was used.

We are a hardy race else we could not endure so many amateur shows.

We know a chap who lives in New York and travels through several states in his automobile. He always has a Pennsylvania license on his car. He told us it gets him unmolested parking privileges in New York city as a visitor's automobile from Pennsylvania and he can leave his car stand all day and never get a tag. He claims it saves him hundreds of dollars every year in fines if he had to pay them and he would if he left his car out as much with a New York license tag on it. So you see there are all kinds of games played.

The office holder who is a smearer before election and then gets hard boiled after he assumes office just does that thing once.

You can hardly ever tell what the people are thinking who say nothing.

JUST A FABLE

Will a man ever get too old to enjoy a fable? I think not.

"Once upon a time the head lion of the jungle called all of the animals together in conference and when they assembled, he raised himself on his haunches and said:

"Fellow animals, you have been summoned here today to protest against the existing order of things. Everything is wrong. (Loud growls and grunts.) Animals from other jungles are coming into our territory, thereby making it twice as hard for us to make a living and now the question is, what are we going to do about it?"

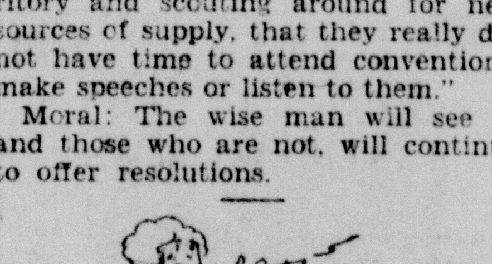
Before anybody else had a chance to say a word, the snail piped up and said: "I move you, Mr. Lion, that we lay off our regular line of work and spend our time in meetings and conventions talking things over and passing resolutions until conditions change."

"Well," said the beaver, "I can't see that that will get us anywhere; how are we going to live in the meantime?"

At this point the elephant spoke up and said, "I notice the bees are not in on this; let's get them here and make it unanimous."

"Oh, there's no use fooling your time away with them," said the tiger "I gave them an invitation this morning but they said that while they wished us well, they were so busy looking after their own business, gathering honey on their regular territory and scouting around for new sources of supply, that they really did not have time to attend conventions, make speeches or listen to them."

Moral: The wise man will see it, and those who are not, will continue to offer resolutions.



A flapper is a girl so old she no longer judges a party by the refreshments.

If the other fellow puts his foot in your mouth, that's legitimate football. If you bite it, that's offside.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

ABOUT JOHN G. JOHNSON.

Every Pennsylvania lawyer respects the memory of the late John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia. Johnson was during his life the greatest lawyer in the State and by many thought to have been the greatest lawyer who ever practiced at the American Bar.

The amount of income which he received from his practice has been talked about in hushed whispers by more than three generations of lawyers, but no accurate figures were obtainable until now.

When John G. Johnson died he left all of his law books, furniture and papers to two associates, Maurice B. Saul and Frank P. Prichard. These two men associated with them James W. Bayard and Ralph B. Evans, also former associates of Mr. Johnson, and formed a law partnership bearing their names. All of the assets left to Prichard and Saul, were transferred to the partnership without any money consideration. They continued to occupy the old offices of Mr. Johnson in the Land Title Building, in Philadelphia.

The firm finally "agreed to disagree" and upon its disolution, the Evans faction outbid the Saul faction and paid $110,000 for the books, papers, furniture and lease.

Now the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is an inquisitive soul and he saw fit to assess a delinquent income tax against Mr. Saul and his associate. Mr. Saul took the case to the Board of Tax Appeals. He won, for the Board decided as the whole property was an inheritance, Mr. Saul and his associate had derived no taxable income from the sale by them of the assets, so sold.

In the proceeding, however, it was disclosed what had been Mr. Johnson's income from his profession during the last years of his life.

For the years 1913 to 1917, Mr. Johnson's income from his law practice was as follows: 1913 (March 1 to December 31), $111,227.69; 1914, $156,200; 1915, $171,383; 1916, $207,199.40; 1917, January 1 to April 14 (date of his death) $89,469.65.

A $200,000 law practice when the Dollar was a Dollar cannot be considered small.

Humorous Skepticism Greets Claim Of Radiogram To Mars

Doubters Wonder Why Martian Woman With Big Ears Couldn't Reply To Message From English Scientists

Announcement from England of communication with the planet Mars by Dr. Hugh Mansfield Robinson and an associate scientist are received with humorous skepticism in this country.

Observing that "all of merry England is palpitating with interest," the WASHINGTON STAR wonders: "What should one say should one communicate with Mars? Dr. Robinson confines his messages to two - 'Love to Mars' and 'God is love.' They are excellent messages, but after them, what? What do the great mass of thinking people want most to know about Mars?" The Star has its own thoughts about this matter, and suggests that Americans might want to know Martian opinions about the election, prohibition and various related matters, and about Martian experiences with weather, motor cars, colds, etc. Its advice, however, is against attempts to listen in on the English radio messages to Mars, presumably as a waste of time.

"Dr. Robinson may have had only a dream," suggests the EL PASO HERALD, "but he made it a good one while about it. * * * It is true that his interest has wandered far from home, but there seems little likelihood of this becoming another of those love-triangle affairs. If it does, it will be the biggest triangle ever heard of." The ABERDEEN DAILY WORLD muses: "If Mars can understand us, and if the Martians know more than we and so are able to observe us, their 'large ears' must have been weary of the election din in this country, and the Martian ladies, gathered around their bridge tables of a pleasant afternoon, must smile with pitying contempt at our antics, at our rushing here and there, and most of all, at our great display of importance."

Noticing that "the Robinson wireless was addressed to 'Oomaruru', a big-eared Martian woman,'" the ST. JOSEPH NEWS-PRESS suggests that "it would serve him right if she were to rebuke him sharply for his glaring default in chivalry." The MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE feels that "if Oomaruru is a nice, quiet Martian girl, she must resent the blast of publicity which attends her interplanetary communication. She must be just a little bit sensitive over the subordination of the Oomaruru intellect to the Oomaruru ears in the earthly press dispatches."

"The most unpopular man in the world today," in the opinion of the CLEVELAND NEWS, "ought to be Dr. Mansfield Robinson of London. With 500,000,000 women from whom he could select his lady friends, he paid out good money in an effort to communicate with a girl on Mars. But there is consolation in the knowledge she wouldn't answer. Probably she had her opinion of a man who couldn't find a soulmate among the half billion fair ones closer to home."

As to American women, the KANSAS CITY JOURNAL-POST points out that they "should ponder the fact that the Martian men might be worth knowing," since Dr. Robinson "says they are big, handsome follows, superior to the males of this planet."

Referring to the statement that Dr. Robinson "realizing that his friend, 'Oomaruru,' might not be acquainted with the English language, translated his greetings into a special code," the KALAMAZOO GAZETTE comments: "Where he got that code, or what led him to suppose that a Martian lady could understand it any better than she could understand English, are only two of the numerous mysteries which the doctor has not yet seen fit to explain."

"If the Martian lady had sufficiently close telepathic contact with Dr. Robinson to arrange the other details of the experiment," according to the BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE, "she would hardly have omitted to make provision for an intelligible return signal—not at least if ladies on Mars possess the same practical abilities as those on earth. The whole result is a little disheartening, for the possibility of telepathy thrills the speculative imagination even more than that of neighbors in the heavens."

The report that a dictaphone record "on which the national anthem of Mars is recorded" is in the possession of Dr. Robinson is met by the statement from the LOS ANGELES EXPRESS that "if the Martians are as familiar with the words of their national anthem as the people of the United States are with those of the 'Star Spangled Banner,' they run something like this: 'Tum te tum to tum te tum,' etc. Just like ours." This paper, however, finds interest in the report that "ladies on Mars are six feet tall, round-faced and oddly behind the times, for they wear their hair long," that they "have 'penetrating eyes' and 'very large ears,'" and that "other equally trustworthy descriptions credit them with two thumbs on each hand and longing knowledge of our wicked earth."

"We may never get into touch with this planet," observes the NEW YORK EVENING POST, seriously, "but we shall never give up trying. Scientific observations will go on, just as well as spectacular attempts to send radio messages or to catapult human beings from gigantic mortars. What adds particular piquancy to this quest is the astronomical belief that Mars is an older world than the earth and that consequently, if there are Martians, they may know secrets of life which we have not yet discovered."

"There are many moderns who believe that interplanetary communication will one day be established despite any doubt in the scientific world that the planets have inhabitants," says the DALLAS JOURNAL, while the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL concludes: "There is only one flimsy basis for attempting in a scientific way communication with the planet. The atmosphere around Mars indicates the possibility that it is conducive to human life. There may be a race of men on this other world that to the naked eye is but a spot of red in the nightly sky."

Just Folks

THE TOILERS

The task is ended and the day
Hushes its busy hum.
Homeward to watch their children play
The weary toilers come.

The burdens of the tedious hours
Are everywhere put down
And now to gardens gay with flowers
Come all the men from town.

The wheels are still, the hammers cease,
The men and women turn
To all the cleanliness of peace
Where fires of comfort burn.

Oh, weary man and woman pale,
Is this your happy fate?
Does night time throw a kindly veil
O'er everything you hate?

Or do you reach a stuffy room,
Lonely and bleak and bare,
On ground where never flowers bloom
And laughter's never there?

I see you turning home again,
To what I do not know
And yet to loneliness and pain
I'm sure some must go.

And so for all I make this prayer
When day's long labors cease,
God grant to toilers everywhere
The cleanliness of peace.

November 5 to 11 is indicated as American Education Week.

This suggestion is offered by the American Legion, the National Educational Association, and other organizations.

Its object is to call public attention to the schools of the country, their needs and ideals.

During this week at least every parent should visit his child's school. Prior to this week there should be articles on schools in all the newspapers.

These subjects should be stressed as the due objectives of education: Home co-operation; technical skill; effectiveness; the wise use of leisure, and moral training.

The first of these points is that of health. It includes proper school houses, adequate playgrounds and such subjects. Children are easily the most important things in the community and in our haste to make money we should not forget the welfare of those the money is for.

The second point is that of the home. Let teachers visit the homes of the pupils and see what they can do to secure the assistance of the home in their work.

Wednesday, November 7, is set apart as Know Your School Day. The school house should be appreciated as the center of communal life, and the school teacher should be exalted as the most important member of the community.

The next point is School Opportunity Day. How children should be trained for vocational efficiency and opportunities for service should here be emphasized. The work of continuation schools, special classes and evening schools should be shown.

Friday, November 9, is Citizenship Day. Every child should be taught how important it is for him to fulfill his civic duties. There can be no successful democratic government that does not begin by teaching democratic responsibility in the schools.

Sunday is Armistice Day. Attention of the children should be called to the patriotic duties of peace. Ministers should tell of the school and build up citizenship.

The mayor of the town should issue a proclamation making this week sacred to American education.

All churches and fraternal bodies should co-operate.

Newspapers should call attention to the week in their columns.

Plans should be made now for the observance of this week. For the school always has been, is, and always will be the foundation of national life.

Rev. C. H. Erickson Starts Seventh Week Of Preaching Service Here Friday

PREACHES HEALING SERMON ON FRIDAY

Rev. C. H. Erickson, evangelist at Everybody's Tabernacle, located at the corner of South Mill and Friendship streets, opened his seventh week of evangelistic services in the city Friday evening when he preached to a crowd of some 1500 persons on the subject, What Is Faith?"

Tonight the second sermon of the seventh week will be preached when the meeting will convene at 7:30 o'clock in the tabernacle. At this time, in addition to the sermon, which will concern Salvation, there will be special musical numbers on the program. Included in this list of special numbers will be a vocal solo by Miss Rita Carden, pianist of the tabernacle, and a violin solo by Spurgeon Jones, member of the colored quintet.

Tomorrow, Sunday, the services for the day will be conducted twice. In the afternoon there will be a special service, Rev. Erickson preaching on "The Holy Spirit" at this time. There will also be the regular Sunday evening preaching service at 7:30 o'clock.

At the services which took place Friday evening, special vocal and instrumental numbers were presented by the members of the colored quintet who have furnished and will continue to furnish the musical numbers throughout the extent of the evangelistic meetings here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lacy sang a special duet number entitled, "We Never Let The Devil Wink". Mr. Lacy is a member of the colored quintet.

The sermon Friday evening, one of the Divine Healing series which are being preached by Rev. Erickson, drove home to the audience the fact that one cannot be healed or find Salvation without faith in God that is absolute and the continuance in faith though the obstacles in the path indicate something else.

"If you have faith in the old miracles, why not have faith in the miracles that are happening today," said the evangelist. "One must have persistence in prayer and faith to get salvation and healing." The evangelist at this point read the story of the woman and the unjust judge found in Luke, chaper 18, wherein the woman by persistence won her cause.

The story of Abraham and the sacrifice of his only son was also cited by the evangelist as one of the greatest examples that we have of faith in God and persistence in prayer. "No matter what happens, we have God's promises, and thus far, they have every one been fulfilled. God has never yet gone back on one of His promises and if you have faith," stated the evangelist, "you too may be healed and find salvation."

"It is the ultimate goal that counts, despite all of the obstacles by the way side. The victory of faith is healing and salvation. God's promises are made despite any happenings which one might encounter," said Rev. Erickson.

Throughout the sermon in its entirety, the evangelist strove to impress upon his audience that persistent faith and prayer was needed as an essential to healing. "Belief in the heart is greater than belief in the mind," stated the evangelist.

In his Baltimore speech Gov. Smith paid to Woodrow Wilson a tribute that Wilson's friends will appreciate, hailing him as one of the greatest of presidents and a leader of men.

A Republican reader of this column suggests that Gov. Smith's tribute to Wilson was also a tribute to Hoover for, says this reader: "When Woodrow Wilson went out into the length and breadth of the land to choose men for his council table, he did not choose Alfred E. Smith as one of his councilors, but he did choose Herbert Hoover.

GOVERNOR SMITH MAKE SHIS FINAL ADDRESS TONIGHT

ment of Mr. Hoover would not have any particular effect at any time, and besides it came too late.

Bitterness Is Seen.

The bitterness that is handmaiden to religious discussion again crept into the campaign today in its closing hours when John J. Raskob, the Democratic national chairman, made public the "hot stuff" which, he charged, Senator George H. Moses, the Hoover eastern manager, sent into the south for publication in North Carolina newspapers.

This material, the author of which has been described as a former South Carolinian now doing editorial work in New York, consisted of an attack on the tenets of the Catholic church, and a personal attack on Governor Smith as well.

Raskob said he made it public after the Republican chairman, Dr. Hubert Work, ignored the letter which Raskob sent him yesterday by special messenger. It is not unlikely that Governor Smith will deal with the incident in his Madison Square Garden speech tonight.

Leaders Confident.

Underneath all this fanfare of final oratory, charge and countercharge, recrimination and bitterness, the leaders of both parties maintained today a confidence in the result on Tuesday that is literally amazing.

The Republicans perhaps are more confident than the Democrats. Their confidence is bolstered up by the surface indications in their favor—the straw votes, the betting odds, and the other indicators that in previous years have shown which way the electoral winds are blowing.

Their rock-bottom, conference table estimate of the situation envisions a minimum of 285 electoral votes for Mr. Hoover next Tuesday, and they publicly proclaim it will be greater.

As against this, the Democratic leaders, fortified as they are with the sanguine reports of field workers, maintain a serene and seemingly genuine confidence. The solid South, they say, will remain unbroken, and Governor Smith will win enough of the big Atlantic seaboard states and border states to give him a majority of the electoral college. New York and Massachusetts, they contend, will lead the way for Smith.

Both sides lay claim to the great army of new voters that this unparalleled presidential contest has called out. Registration throughout the country has been enormously increased. It is estimated that, conservatively, ten million more votes will be cast on Tuesday than were cast in the Coolidge-Davis-Lafollette vote of four years ago.

Monday, as is usual, will be an offday politically—the lull before the battle. Both Governor Smith and Secretary Hoover will appeal to the country over the radio Monday night to get out the vote, Smith from New York, Hoover from far-off Palo Alto. That will be the last gesture before the curtain rises Tuesday on the greatest political drama America has ever witnessed.

BELIEF PREVAILS ELFRIEDA KNAAK MURDER VICTIM

on a fiery altar for the purpose of "purification" in the police station furnace were the failure to discover any traces of her hat, coat or other clothing in the ashes of the furnace. She was nude when discovered last Monday morning and asserted she had burned her clothing in the furnace where she had sought self-immolation. And there had been no odor of burning flesh at the time of her discovery.

Not Self-Inflicted

In an interview with Charles W. Hitchcock, the man for whose love the girl had declared she had sought "purification by fire", Elfrieda practically repudiated her previous statements that the torture by flame had been self-inflicted.

Hitchcock visited her a few hours before her death yesterday morning, and when he asked: "Did you mean to do this?" she answered with the single word: "No".

This negative answer to a question upon which the entire mystery hinges has caused authoritiev to give credence to the murder theory.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND
By Mary Smith Prence Vincent

THEY CALL HIM "FATHER JOHN"

"Sacred Ibis and his brother Scarlet, who, in their native land had been known as White-Coat and Red-Feathers, adopted Egypt as their own country.

"Every year when it is time for the waters to rise Sacred Ibis makes his appearance and stays until the waters subside. Then where he goes nobody knows.

"Sometimes Scarlet Ibis is with him, and sometimes he is not, but wherever the latter journeys he is always welcome. People like to have him around just to look at. No bird in all Egypt dresses more magnificently than he, nor is there one more proud of his looks, either. The people of Egypt not only worship Sacred Ibis, but they love him as well, and many are the nicknames that they have given him. Some call him Father John and some Father Sickle Bill, but it is all the same to the Ibis—he likes them all.

"Cormorant's companion stopped speaking and snapped at a worm that was wriggling along on the ground between his claws. Then she looked up and winked an eye at him.

"'So that is the tale of the Ibis that lives in Egypt,' said she. 'I thought you might be interested in hearing how that great, great, great-uncle of mine happened to choose it for his home.'

"'I am so glad that you told me Ibis,' declared Cormorant. 'I have not heard a more interesting story all the while I have been on my travels. But what you have told me only accounts for two of the four brothers. What became of the others? I hope you have time to tell me.

"'Where did the Golden Collar go, and what adventure befell him? And did he ever again meet Red-Feather, the brother who was so jealous of him?

"Cormorant's questions came so quickly that they rather took his new friend's breath away.

"'Hey, hold on a minute,' cried that lady bird. 'One at a time, if you please. Let's see, now. Golden Collar took the path to the left, didn't he? Of course, it was many, many years ago, but my grandmother told me that he flew for days and he flew for nights, and at last he came to a place where the grass was green and the air balmy, and where little lagoons dotted the lands.

"'Here, decided Golden Collar, was the very place for him to settle down, if ever he was going to.

"'So Golden Collar chose a hummock high and dry enough on which to build a home, and near enough to the pools so that every day and night he might wade knee deep in the water on a search for food.

"'Golden Collar always had liked frogs and molluscas for dinner, but here he could have plenty of fat grasshoppers for dessert. And when he discovered this nothing could have driven him from the land.'"

Noted Bishop To Speak November 7 In Trinity Church

Rev. Roots, Missionary Bishop To China To Make Address At Parish Dinner

The Right Rev. Logan Herbert Roots, D. D. missionary bishop of Hankow, China wil make the principal address of the evening at the annual parish supper on Wednesday evening, November 7 in Trinity Episcopal church.

Bishop Roots is the most distinguished speaker who has visited the local parish in the last five years. He is a man of international reputation and has made a most notable record during his stay in Hankow, China, where he was stationed as a medical missionary. At the recent revolutionary outbreak at Hankow, the bishop at no time fell under the ban of the revolutionaries. He remained constantly at his post, and though he was forced to see his efforts of 24 years at least temporially abandoned he retains his faith in the Chinese people.

He is in this country now where he has recently attended the triennial general convention of the Episcopal church held in Washington, D. C.

Next Wednesday evening Bishop Roots will give his first hand story of the situation in China.

It would be hard to single out one specific achievement that rises above another in the 24 years of Bishop Roots' administration of the Hankow district. The well known Boone University and the church general hospital at Wuchang are two great institutions which owe their growth to his genius for management.

Bishop Roots is a graduate of Harvard college and the Episcopal Theological school at Cambridge, Mass.

Now that Annapolis finally has won a football game, it should be considerably easier to put through an appropriation for some new cruisers.—The New London Evening Day.

Women's Federated Clubs

THE ANSWER

The question has been frequently asked by the men, why so large a number of women have lined up back of Herbert Hoover, candidate for the presidency?

Back of Herbert Hoover, food administrator during the war, stood a great army of American housewives, 20,000,000 strong. They said if food will win the war "the victory is ours." We won.

Today these same housewives are saying, "We want better homes thruout the nation. We'll vote right. We're Hooverites."

Or, how safe the women would feel with Mr. Hoover at the wheel. No individual in the world has done so much in behalf of childhood and womanhood as Herbert Hoover.

TEN REASONS

The women will vote for Herbert Hoover because he represents the best in America.

The women will vote for Herbert [illegible]oover because he is a great humani[illegible]ian.

[illegible]he women will vote for Herbert [illegible]ver because he places SERVICE [illegible] it rightfully belongs, above dol[illegible]d cents.

[illegible] women will vote for Herbert Hoo[illegible] because he laid aside personal gain [illegible] gave his time without compensa[illegible] to feed the hungry peoples of the [illegible]th, without regard for color, creed o[illegible]ce, saving millions of lives.

The [illegible]en will vote for Herbert Hoover [illegible]use he has through his humanita[illegible] methods brought about a better un[illegible]standing among the nations of the [illegible]rth.

The wom[illegible] will vote for Herbert Hoover because he is well equipped, because he has had wide experience in governmental affairs.

The women will vote for Herbert Hoover because he is a statesman and not a politician.

The women will vote for Herbert Hoover because of his knowledge of the people of other nations and their needs. To him they are as next door neighbors.

The women will vote for Herbert Hoover because he more nearly represents the ideal plan for humanity than some of the other candidates for the presidency.

The women will vote for Herbert Hoover because he most nearly represents their ideal of an efficient, honest, upright, clear-thinking, cultural and charitable American citizen.

Police Hunting For Missing Constable

SALEM, O., Nov. 3.—Extensive search is being conducted by officials of Ohio and nearby states for Walter W. Davidson, Salem constable, wanted on a charge of embezzlement. The warrant for his arrest was issued following the filing of an affidavit by Justice of Peace Charles Bonsall, who alleges Davidson absconded with funds exceeding $500.

Congressional Fights Not Being Overlooked

Strong Campaign Under Way To Send 36 Republicans To Congress From Pennsylvania

Republicans Seem To Have Situations Well In Hand In Many Districts

By WILLIAM B. BROWN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—Leaders of both parties today are backing last day efforts in those congressional districts where there is a close fight between the nominees.

After his election as Republican state chairman, Edward Martin said that one of his chief aims would be to send 36 republican congressmen to Washington. That has happened only once—in 1924.

John R. Collins, the Democratic state chairman, has been directing congressional campaigns in a dozen districts where the chances for Democratic success seem good. The Democratic leaders claim not less than eight seats with a possibility of twelve. In 1912 the Democrats were successful in 12 districts but they have not equaled the record since.

To Fight It Out

If Philadelphia has seven congressional districts and allegheny five. That is an even dozen where the Democrats have small chance of success. In the 5th, 15th, 3rd and 24th, the Republican candidates also hold the Democratic nominations. In the 31st the Democratic candidate has withdrawn.

In the remaining 19 districts the Democrats are ready to fight it out, hopeful of better than half of them.

Democratic efforts center primarily in the 12th and 30th, the two districts now represented by Democrats. In the former the Democratic incumbent is John J. Casey, Wilkes-Barre, one of their best campaigners. The Republican nominee is Henry L. Merritt of Plains, a newcomer in politics.

Everett Kent, the representative of the 30th district, Republican leaders admit, is an able and fearless campaigner. His opponent is William R. Coyle who defeated Kent, then a member, in 1924. Kent won in 1926.

Leaders Hopeful

The 11th and 13th districts come next in order as good fighting ground for the Democrats. Both are in the anthracite field where there is considerable Smith sentiment.

J. Russell Leech, the Republican nominee in the 17th district faces a hard fight against George E. Wolfe who has the Democratic, Labor and Socialist nominations.

The 22nd composed of York and Adams county is normally Democratic but this year a number of Democratic leaders there are supporting Hoover for president, urging support for the rest of the Democratic ticket. That break has cheered Republican hopes for Franklin Menges.

The 29th district is another where Republicans are taking no chances and Democrats are hopeful. Representative Milton Shreve, Republican, is opposed by Albert L. Thomas, Democrat. The latter has the Labor nomination and the former the prohibition.

The death of Miss Agnes Hart Wilson, the Democratic nominee in the 16th district, has reduced the hopes of success there.

Neither party is going to overlook any obvious chances in any of the districts where there is a close fight for neither discounts the value of winning a congressional fight.

Fire Ruined Home Gives Up 4 Bodies

Triple Murder And Suicide Are Believed To Have Been Revealed

(International News Service)

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Nov. 3.—Examination of the ashes of the burned home of Daniel J. Bertola, wealthy retired merchant, today revealed what police believe was a triple murder and a suicide.

The axe-hacked body of Bertola was saved from the flames by a neighbor, who discovered the blaze. He was unable to rescue Mrs. Bertola and their daughter, Miss Camille Bertola.

Their charred bodies were found in the ruins of the home and a fourth boy, discovered later, is believed by officers to be that of the slayer, who either committed suicide after the triple killing or was trapped in the flames he had set to hide his deed.

Police who were searching for Charles Braker, 45, suitor for the hand of Miss Bertola, expressed the belief that the fourth body might be his. Braker was reported to have gone to Santa Rosa from his home in Fairfield last night to call on Miss Bertola.

Two rifles were also discovered in the ruins of the home.

Armistice Ball Of Foreign Vets

Souvenir Reproduction Of "Stars And Stripes" Armistice Number To Be Available

At the Armistice ball of Harry L. McBride Post No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars to be held in the Cathedral ballroom on the evening of November 12 there will be offered for sale souvenir copies of the Armistice number of the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Forces while in France during the World War.

While there are those who may not know what the publication was or may never heard of it, the vast majority of Americans today know all about it especially the two million men who served overseas. It was published by the army for the army and it contained news that was of vital interest to the rank and file. It contained vivid accounts of all the battles, the divisions engaged and gave the history of all the divisions, general orders, communications of interest to all troops were transmitted to them through its columns. Roy Baldridge with his masterful drawings depicted life as it was lived by the soldiers at the time.

A. A. Walfren another soldier artist furnished the humor with his weekly cartoons on army life. There was a regular sporting page. It had its quota of advertisements.

It is the only newspaper of its kind in the history of the United States. There were only 71 issues yet it had a paid circulation of 550,000 copies.

FACULTY PARTY

Some 30 teachers from the entire township of Shenango were entertained Friday evening by the high school teachers, Miss Katherine Alcorn acting as hostess in her home at 910 Beckford street.

Bridge and music furnished the entertainment for the evening. At a late hour refreshments were served.

BASKETBALL TO START

Practices for boys' and girls' varsity basketball will begin November 4, according to the announcement of Coach Johnston. This will be the regular season practice, there being no pre-season training.

PLAN FOR MINSTREL

Practices are still continuing on boys' varsity club colored minstrel show which will take place in the early part of December.

The date has not been set as yet, due to a confliction of activities at the time.

Preparations are being made for the girls' varsity club bazar, which will take place the latter part of the month in the school auditorium. The affair will be of a Chinese nature. An entertainment will also be presented.

The semi-departmental system of teaching now in force in the grades of the Shenango township school is proving a successful experiment, according to the statement of C. B. Book, supervising principal.

Under the present regime teachers have but half the preparations to make than they did formerly. School officials are pleased with the manner in which the new system is working.

Each Car Uses 2.98 Tubes And 2.62 Tires Yearly, Says Hanlon

If you have a budget for your car, don't figure on less than 2.93 tubes and 2.62 casings for the next year, states Bernard Hanlon of the New Castle Motor club. These are figures compiled by the department of commerce which show that this was the average for every registered motor car during the past year.

In 1927 the tire cost showed a six per cent reduction over the year 1925. During the past year 69,072,976 inner tubes were sold which makes the average of 2.98 tubes for each year. Nearly 61,000,000 outer casings were sold, which shows that nearly as many tires are used as tubes.

The average wholesale cost of both high pressure and balloon casings for the year was approximately $10 while tubes averaged $1.50.

NEW CASTLE OUR CASTLE

by

The Woman's Club — Organized in 1889.

"GOD COULDN'T BE EVERYWHERE, SO HE MADE MOTHERS."

In this proverb, even the pagam recognizes in the mother, a God appointed guardian of the race.

Our own city knows no greater need than just such guardianship or mothering—for our homes, for our schools, for our recreations and for our public housekeeping. To aid such work is the aim of this column.

WHAT SHALL I READ?

Mrs. George Fox, Chairman Literature Committee.

Have you made any plans for your winter reading? If not, may we help you?

In every life in New Castle there should be a definite plan and purpose in regard to reading. There is more truth than poetry in the statement that we should choose our books with as much care as we do our friends. A good book, wisely chosen, can do three things for you—educate, you, entertain you, inspire you. Can a friend do more?

In the suggested reading list which follows you will find both old and new books. You will find life as it is lived among the less fortunate in the intensely interesting "Red Rust" and "Growth of Soil" up the scale to "The Children" written in Edith Wharton's perfect style. "Giants in the Earth" is magnificent. It is well worth buying for your library, if you do not already have it. It seems that the whole world and his wife must have read "The Bridge at San Luis Rey" but we have added it to the list anyway. "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" and Donn Byrne's "Messer Marco Polo" are both touched with something a little different from the usual book of fiction and The Bookman predicts a longer life for them than most fiction has.

Do you have a mystery story complex—either for or against? It seems that most readers are more or less rabid one way or the other. Well, anyway we have included several, the most astonishing being "The Strange Case of Miss Anne Spragg" by Louis Bromfield. And, in his intricate, detailed, scientific way, S. S. Van Dyne has built up a surprising reading public for himself.

We turn now to the non-fiction for education and inspiration. Each book chosen in this list has its definite purpose. Would you have both education and inspiration? Then read biography. We have given you several of the best written the last few years . . . interesting, readable books that will enrich your lives immeasurably. "Masks in a Pageant" by William Allen White is said to be a very good book on political life from a newspaper man's viewpoint. Although a little difficult to read, Shaw's "Intelligent Woman's Guide to Socialism" is worth the effort put upon it. Shaw, as you know, has a very deft, clever way about him, quite unlike any other writer today. He is worth cultivating.

Milton, when he said that a book may have both truth and beauty "embalmed and treasured up" within its pages, must have known there would some day be an Anne Shannon Monroe who would write "Singing in the Rain". It is a delightful book, an ideal gift for one friend to give another.

Do you travel a great deal—at your own fireside? If so, you will enjoy "An Indian Journey." Halliburton's "Royal Road to Romance", although not so new as "An Indian Journey," is most entertaining.

"Twilight of the American Mind" and "America Comes of Age" will be read and thoroughly appreciated by the reader with a psycho-socialogical twist. You will need to be a student, however, if you would get beneath the crust of words in either of these.

Have we answered in any degree the question, What shall I read? But one thing more. . . . James Branch Cabell answers the question thus: "I ask of literature precisely those things of which I feel the lack in my own life. I appeal for charity and implore that literature afford me what I cannot come by in myself. . . ."

Columbia Students Have Big Time In Pre-Game Activity

Capture Two Subway Trains And Cause Near Riot In New York Theatrical District

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Three hundred over enthusiastic Columbia students, flushed with the excitement of a "pep meeting" held on the eve of the football game with Cornell, "captured" a subway train early today and then paraded through the Times Square district to work off their enthusiasm.

Yelling, waving torches and clanking cow bells, the collegians boarded a subway train without paying any fares, turned out the lights and stoped, the train every few minutes by pulling the emergency cord.

The other passengers got out immediately and scurried for safety.

In the theatrical district the army of students amused themselves by pushing automobiles in the opposite direction to which they had been headed. One motorist "ordered" two policemen to arrest the 300 rioters. The two bluecoats, somewhat dubious at the prospect, compromised by arresting two unwary students. Then the others commandeered another subway train and finished the celebration by serenading the girls at Barnard College.

And a mysterious feature is on the bill under the direction of Herbert Peairs.

We will have a new song leader Monday so come prepared to warble. And we will lay a little bet that even Fred will sing for this leader.

Both Parties Appear Highly Confident Of Congress Majorities

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A Democratic claim that Tuesday's election will restore Congress to that party's control was offset Friday by a Republican boast of an increased majority in the House, featured by pending victories in congressional districts within the solid South.

National leaders of both parties were optimistic over the outcome of the congressional election. Each Republican claim was countered by a Democratic prediction. Both sides specifically claimed enough seats in the House to insure party control.

Aid Is Requested

State and local leaders all over the country meanwhile were sent instructions to aid the congressional tickets next Tuesday. Both Herbert Hoover and Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Presidential rivals, have realized the necessity of having a friendly Congress aid them in carrying out their policies, if elected, and both have urged the election of senators and representatives of their own political faith.

The Democrats to gain control of the new Congress will have to reelect every Democrat in the House and gain 23 additional seats by defeating Republican members. The Republicans, on the other hand, could lose 19 seats and still retain a nominal "paper" control of the House. This control, though, would include the Wisconsin and other insurgent delegations which vote against the administration as often as with it.

Tilson Predicts

Representative John Q. Tilson of Connecticutt, Republican floor leader of the House, voiced his party's claim to victory.

"We will gain at least 20 seats in Tuesday's election, giving us a total membership in the House of between 250 and 260," said Tilson. "The big surprise to the country will be the election of Republican congressmen from southern states.

We will gain seats, too, in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri.

"The election of a Republican Congress is certain. The only question now is how large a majority we will get."

Democrats Confident

Democratic chieftains mocked those claims. Representative William A. Oldfield of Aarkansas, chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, countered by declaring the next House would be Democratic.

"Reports we receive show we will capture 31 seats now held by Republicans and there is a possibility of an overturn of from 50 to 60," said Oldfield. "We will gain in every section of the country.

"The reasons for our confidence are manifold. In the East the tremendous sentiment for Governor Smith will sweep many Democratic nominees into the House. In the Northwest the farm revolt is working to the advantage of many Democratic candidates.

"Even in Pennsylvania, where elections have gone by default in the past, we are contesting for seats this year. It would not surprise me if the Democrats gained as many as 12 seats in that rock-ribbed Republican state."

Beauty Queens In Fashion Review

Four Beauty Contest Winners To Appear At Cathedral Next Week

Five girls, all acclaimed the most beautiful in their respective cities or communities, come to the Cathedral, as the feature attraction of the Beauty Show and Fashion Revue.

Each of the girls is talented even beyond her beauty, allowing the revue to rise head and shoulders above all previous style and fashion productions. Each girl sings, dances or does instrumental solos.

There is Mary Lipinski, Miss Pittsburgh of 1928; Alice Canfield, Miss Erie of 1928; Kitty Arnold, the starry-eyed little soprano and "baby" of the company, who won the title of Miss Niagara Falls from some 80 contestants in a beauty contest there; Miss Fashion Queen Mona Ford who is featured in boudoir scene which opens the revue.

Acting as mistress of ceremonies with the revue is Olga Mundy, radio star known throughout this section of the state for her half hour of character songs for months, a feature over Station WCAE, Pittsburgh, and more recently for her work from WJAS.

Through the co-operation of Jiles Shoppe the girls are displaying the latest modes and fashions.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Roaming around in limestone dust is a rather dusty job as you might imagine, but when the rain hits that dust you have a pair of concrete shoes, or nearly so, after they dry. Have a pair of those shoes this morning, following some roaming around in Hillsville, Friday afternoon at the laying of the cornerstone of the new school.

The folks out there have needed a new school for some time, but you can believe that they are getting a good one. Unfortunately they had rain for the exercises and Squire Jim Eakin and his friends had to make it brief.

Came into Hillsville from Youngstown and one short piece of the road was new. Stopped a lad about seven years of age and said, "But how far is Hillsville from here?"

"I dunno."

"What, you don't know where Hillsville is?"

"No sir."

"Do you mean to say that you never heard of Hilltown?"

His face cleared instantly and he replied. "Oh Hilltown, sure, you go right straight ahead."

Which only proves to me that the old nickname for the village still sticks. And after all what's in a name?

Here's a tip for all of you. Never call the Croton Band, the Croton Drum Corps. Its bad business, and if you want combed by the young lady who is in charge of the band, call it the Croton Drum Corps. It isn't a drum corps. It's a band, and you might add, a good one.

There you are Dick, how's that?

Winter must certainly be on the way. Any time Tom Cunningham begins wearing a hat you can expect zero weather any time, and Tommy has his annual headgear out. Prepare for ice and snow.

You may have read all of Friday's News but if you did you were up until the wee sma' hours. Forty-eight pages is some newspaper in any man's town and takes considerable time to read.

The only person I feel sorry for is the youngster who had 150 or more of those papers to carry Friday night on his route.

Hope you attended the Booster Day football game at Franklin Field today and helped the Alumni committee to get the funds for those uniforms.

The Way of the World

HOLDING AND PAWING

If you haven't anything to say interesting enough to keep the attention of the one you are talking to, don't try to force him into unwilling attention by holding him by the lapel, pawing him, or moving around in such a manner as to keep your face under his chin no matter which way he looks. You know the type and the style. It is all very irritating. The man who indulges in such tactics has lost his case in a hurry unless his victim is particularly easy-tempered and soft-hearted. Let's recall the words of the courtly Chesterfield: "Never hold anyone by the button or the hand in order to be heard out, for if people are unwilling to hear you, you had better hold your tongue than them."

ELOQUENCE

There is a lot which passes for eloquence which is only a fine wordiness. The only true eloquence is the kind of speaking that brings about a worthy result. No matter how fluent a man may be, if he does not really move people, stir them, inspire them to action, he is not really eloquent. Lloyd George, one of the finest public speakers in the world, says that the "finest eloquence is that which gets things done; the worst is that which delays them."

THE GREAT

We are accustomed to think that so-called great men are of a different race. We think of them as not behaving at all after the manner of the rest of us of the rank and file. It has been said by one that men are neither so good nor so bad as we are apt to think them. There are elements of greatness in almost all men, and elements of littleness in almost all men. We will all get along comfortably if we realize that a big man is also a human being. And we may well realize that a little man is a personality that deserves some respect. Sometimes it is ignorance that keeps a man from realizing his possibilities and being really big. More often it is a cramped spirit, a lack of generosity, selfishness.

Don't fight worry. It's no use. Worry will not be denied. You cannot pretend that you do not feel anxiety. The only way out is to face the facts that are responsible for worry and try to correct them. If the facts can't be changed, if the situation can't be corrected, you will at least finally get used to it.

It is the blowhard who usually gets the harpoon. The whale would be all right if it didn't come up to spout.

Parties Spend Ten Millions On Campaigns

Republican Total Reaches Almost $5,000,000; Democrats Over $4,000,000

BOTH TOTALS FAR ABOVE SET BUDGETS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The Presidential campaign thus far has cost approximately $10,000,000, according to financial reports filed with the clerk of the House today by the Democratic and Republican national committees.

The Republicans reported a grand total of $4,911,744.52 up to October 31, while the Democratic fund reached $4,021,234.

Republican expenditures were $4,774,361.07. From October 23 to October 31 the Republicans collected $770,000 and spent $562,000.

Both totals were far above the original budgets set by the national chairmen.

Nutt explained that the entire $4,911,744.52 was not for the use of the national committee. An agreement was made with some state organizations for joint solicitation of funds and in these instances the national committee acted merely as agent for the state committees and returned to them their share of the collection.

AN APPRECIATION

New Castle, Pa., Nov. 1, 1928.

Mr. Geo. W. Conway,
Editor "New Castle News",
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Mr. Conway: In behalf of the B'Nai B'rith I desire to express our grateful appreciation for the publicity in connection with the conference and banquet held October 21st.

ON BOND ISSUE

Altoona, Nov. 2, 1928.

Editor, New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir: This is written in behalf of our forestry bond issue, amendment No. 3. A few prominent officials of our state, along with a more or less selected lot of names, are advertising themselves as against all bond issues.

It appears to me they display a lack of statesmanship and little regard for the real interests of the citizens of Pennsylvania when they fail to come out in strong support of the loan for the purchase of forest lands.

This is an investment for all the people—an investment in improved climate, better streams, improved water supplies, cheaper electrical power, increase in value of rural property, better living conditions in our mountain sections, finer facilities for hunting, fishing and general recreation.

This list can easily be enlarged. There is added the return of the lumber industry and the woodworking manufacturies to Pennsylvania.

From the standpoint of economics there comes first of all a great financial gain to the commonwealth itself. Then all citizens in the coming years will share in better and less costly living. Even in this year every family is paying every day a tax due to the high cost of wood and all wood products.

All agree that direct payment without bond issues is better. But if appropriations can be made, then to that extent bonds need not be issued. Meanwhile we cannot afford to deal with this problem by any niggardly or shortsighted policy.

We urge a vote for the forestry bond issue, amendment No. 3, that boys and girls of today and tomorrow, future citizens of our good state Pennsylvania — Penn's Woods — may be glad for the fathers and mothers of 1928 who were wise in their day and generation.

Respectfully,
ROBERT E. LARAMY.

New Castle Man Runs Eleven Year Old Car

Before the ink is dry on the paper of the good old ship News, and the query concerning the oldest automobile in the county appears, a response comes in from C. E. Streese of Emery street who says he has a touring car born in 1917 that is still in A1 condition and always ready for a gallop over the highways through the fertile and verdant countryside.

This summer, reports Steese, the car made a round trip to New York and nary a mishap occurred of any nature.

"It's in good shape and there isn't a car on the market today that can run any better than it does now. We never have any trouble with it and it is still good for many more thousands of miles," said the representative of the Steese family who called.

This is the first car to be reported to The News since the query printed yesterday as to who has the oldest gas buggy. This one is 11 years old and as spry as a yearling colt. Who has an older one? If you have, give the gas buggy detective a ring.

GOSSIPS.

Ordinary gossip you need not mind. If gossips accuse you of evil it does not matter for people seldom are offended by your sins. The thing that offends people is the belief that you dislike them.

The gossip to hate is the kind that begins: "I heard that Bill said—" Hate that kind because it is false and it hurts feelings.

Bill never says anything mean about anybody. He says only good about people he likes and he dosn't talk about people he doesn't like. Life is too short to sour with unpleasant thoughts.

When you observe that somebody who once seemed friendly is now cool and distant you know some cockeyed liar has been quoting you to express his own opinions. And then for a moment you wonder why hell waits so long to call its children home.

SCHOOL TAX EXONERATIONS

It will be remembered that the law imposes upon each one of us a $5.00 per capita tax for school purposes. The duty of collecting this tax rests with the City Treasurer. The former City Treasurer, whose term expired the first Monday of January, 1928, held that office for four years. An examination of the records of the School Board discloses the startling fact that for the year 1927, the then Treasurer failed to collect this personal or per capita tax to the total amount of Thirty-one Thousand, One Hundred Seven and 77-100 ($31,107.77) Dollars. He asked to be exonerated from these collections. This does not mean that the tax would afterwards be collected. It means that it would not be. It means that the Treasurer did not collect this amount and that the revenues of the School Board suffered accordingly. It means that there were almost 6,000 men and women assessed in 1927 in the City of New Castle with this per capita or personal tax for school purposes and that they did not pay it. As we have said the total amount is Thirty-one Thousand One Hundred Seven and 77-100 ($31,107.77) Dollars. During the four years he held this office, he drew as compensation Eighty Thousand, Eight Hundred Sixty-one and 14-100 ($80,861.14) Dollars. Out of this he paid his assistants.

Aside from this question there is just now the question of his political affiliation. The former City Treasurer is now the Democratic candidate for the General Assembly in this district, namely, the district of New Castle. He is asking Republicans to elect him. He is urging his record and the foregoing is a part of it.

There is reasonable expectation that this country of ours is looking forward to a period of unusual advancement under the inspired leadership of Herbert Hoover. The inspiration of such a leadership will be felt in the nation and in each state. The full benefit of this leadership can be realized only by presenting a united front. This is particularly true in our own state government. Pennsylvania is overwhelmingly Republican. Both houses of the Legislature are decidedly so. A district represented by one lonesome Democratic might just as well not be represented at all. What could he accomplish? What influence would he have.

If the people of this district want anything for their district, they had better send Republican Representatives to Harrisburg.

Kissed Zeppelin Hero

Friends dared Doris Horwitz, of New York, to kiss Knut Eckener, son of Germany's "iron chancellor of the air," when she visited the big 'drome at Lakehurst, N. J., and thereby caused her to become the heroine of a pretty little side episode as the Graf Zeppelin was being readied for trans-Atlantic trip. For Knut, Jr., undaunted, took pretty Doris in his two big hands, planted a large smack upon her lips and smilingly told [illegible] goo'bye.

SIGNS YOU NEVER SEE

Truly, one never sees this sort of sign on the buildings of any dairyman in the county, but if the truth were painted on the barn, there would be such a sign at possibly every other farm along the highway.

November 9, through the influence of local business and dairy men, the Better Dairy Sires special train will be in New Castle throughout the forenoon. At this time, farmers who would ordinarily have such a sign on their building will have an opportunity to erase it at the least possible cost.

Dairy sires will be on the 10 coach train and dairymen will have the opportunity to purchase outright or trade in their old scrub on a pure bred sire.

The train is not a profit seeking venture and the least cost idea will be prevalent. Local committees in charge are working to complete plans for the day which promises to be a significant one in New Castle and Lawrence county.

Local Post To Participate In Armistice Program

J. Wilbur Randolph Post To Go To Beaver Nov. 12 For Extensive Program

Wilbur Randolph Post of the American Legion which takes place Monday evening in the Legion rooms plans will be perfected for the joining of the local post with the posts in the Beaver valley Armistice day celebration which takes place November 12 in Beaver. The Legionnaires will meet at the building at 9 o'clock on that day and go to the valley in a body. The bugle and drum corps are planning to attend and should make a fine showing.

On Armistice night the J. Wilbur Randolph post is entertaining the auxiliary members and the Poppy girls at a party in the Legion rooms. Cards and dancing will be the order of entertainment.

Congressman Swick To Address Voters

Fine Program Arranged For The Pre-Election Rally Of Republican Club

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 3—The pre-election Republican rally this evening will decide many questions in the minds of many voters for the election on Tuesday in regards to the various bond issues that are included in this year's ballot. The Ellwood City Republican club is conducting this rally this evening as a matter of information for the vote of Ellwood City and vicinity. The affair will be held in the Sons of Columbus building on Lawrence avenue starting promptly at 8 o'clock.

Reports of the club's affairs will be made by President Burton J. Bell, and Secretary M. A. Riley. Ward leaders will report on the progress of the campaign in their respective wards and plans for Tuesday's election will be made and announced this evening.

Congressman Dr. Howard Swick of Beaver Falls is expected this evening to make the principal address at the gathering. Other speakers will include Senator George Weingartner and Assemblyman Milton A. Bickett. The county chairman of the Republican party, Mr. Eakin has been invited as have other Republican leaders of the county and section.

President Bell in speaking of the meeting this morning stated that many voters were not informed as to the various amendments on the election ballot and that a number deserve attention. Amendment number 9 which is for an additional $50,000,000 for more improved highways deserves the vote "Yes" of every voter in Lawrence county. It is particularly interesting to Ellwood as there are three important highways which should be built leading into the city, the Portersville highway, Zellenople highway and the Koppel highway. The improvement of these highways mean much to the progress and advance of Ellwood City and money will be needed for their construction.

The meeting is open to men and women and all are invited and urged to come and hear the principals of the campaign in the Ellwood section. The club is endeavoring to get out a large vote Tuesday and the members are asking everyone to vote—and vote early.

No. 14

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to article fifteen of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by adding thereto a new section to be known as section four thereof.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met. That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:

Section 4. The General Assembly is hereby authorized to provide for the consolidation of the county, poor districts, cities, boroughs and townships of the county of Allegheny, and the offices thereof, into a consolidated city and county, with the constitutional and legal capacity of a municipal corporation, to be known as the City of Pittsburgh, and to provide for a charter for its government. The said charter shall be submitted to the electors of said county at a special election to be provided for therein. If the majority of the electors voting thereon, in the county as a whole, and at least two-thirds of all the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof, vote in the affirmative, the act shall take effect for the whole county. If rejected, the said charter may be resubmitted to the electors in original, new or modified form, at any subsequent election until adopted.

It shall be competent, subject to the police power of the State, for the Legislature to provide in said charter:

1. For the exercise, by the consolidated city, of all the powers and duties vested in the county of Allegheny, and the poor districts thereof, and such other powers appropriate to a municipality as may be specified therein, except such powers as are specifically reserved by this section to the municipal divisions herein provided for.

2. For the election, by the people of the consolidated city, of a board of commissioners, the number to be fixed by the charter, in lieu of present county commissioners, in which board shall be vested all the powers of the consolidated city and county, except as otherwise provided in the charter.

3. For the organization of a government for the consolidated city and county, and for the election or appointment of the constitutional and other necessary officers thereof, and for their powers and duties.

4. For the organization of all courts, other than those of record in the consolidated city, and for the procedure thereof, and for the appointment of judges and officers thereof, which courts shall exercise the jurisdiction, powers and duties of the magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace, and such other powers as may be conferred by law.

5. For the transfer to the consolidated city of the property and indebtedness of the county of Allegheny, and the poor districts thereof, and of such property and indebtedness of the cities, boroughs and townships thereof as relate to the powers and duties of said consolidated city, and to provide for an equitable adjustment and payment of such indebtedness, and for this purpose, any taxation therein shall be uniform taxation within the meaning and intent of other provisions of this Constitution.

6. For the assessment of property for taxation, the levying and collection of taxes, and the payment of the cost of any public improvement, in whole or in part, by special assessment upon abutting and nonabutting property materially benefited thereby, and, for this purpose, real estate so charged shall be classified as urban, suburban, and rural, and the assessments made in accordance with such classifications.

7. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of districts for the purpose of regulating the location, height, area, bulk and use of buildings and premises.

8. For the creation, by the board of commissioners, of special districts for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, maintaining, operating or contracting for, any public property, work, improvement, utility or service, not for the exclusive benefit of any one municipal division, and for the payment of the costs and maintenance of such property, work, improvement, utility or service, there may be special taxes levied throughout such special districts respectively, separate and apart from the general city tax.

Provided, however, That it is the intent of this section that substantial powers be reserved to the cities, boroughs and townships situated in Allegheny County. To this end the charter shall provide for the continued existence of the said cities, boroughs and townships, as municipal divisions of the consolidated city, under their present names and forms of government, subject to the laws provided for government of municipalities of their respective forms and classes except as provided in the charter, and with their present boundaries, provided that the City of Pittsburgh may be designated by a term other than city and may be divided into two or more municipal divisions, and that any two or more municipal divisions of the consolidated city may, with the consent of a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of such divisions at any general or special election, be united to form a single municipal division.

The said municipal divisions shall have and continue to possess the following powers:

1. The constitutional and legal capacity of municipal corporations, except as limited in the charter.

2. The power to lay and collect taxes and to incur indebtedness, subject to the limitations which are or may be imposed by law upon cities, boroughs or townships of corresponding classification, for the purpose of carrying out any lawful power of said divisions.

3. The power to acquire, own, construct, maintain, operate or contract for all kinds of public property, works, improvements, utilities or services, which shall be within the municipal division, and principally for the use and benefit of the inhabitants thereof, provided this power shall not be taken to include the construction and maintenance of through-traffic streets and bridges, tunnels, subways and appurtenances thereof, nor main or trunk lines for sewer, power and water service, running through more than one municipal division, and designated as such by the board of commissioners.

4. The power to maintain a local police force, and local fire department, with the necessary buildings, appurtenances and equipment therefor, which may be supplemental to the police force and fire department of the consolidated city.

5. The power to establish a limitation of indebtedness for the consolidated city and the municipal divisions therof, provided that the total of the indebtedness of the consolidated city and the municipal divisions thereof shall not, in the aggregate, exceed the limits of the total indebtedness allowed by the Constitution to the county and to the separate municipalities.

6. All other powers not specifically granted by the charter to the consolidate city: Provided, however, That a municipal division may surrender, by majority vote of the electors voting theron at any general or special election, any of its powers to the consolidated city, subject to the acceptance thereof by the board of commissioners.

The said charter may be amended by the Legislature, subject to ratification by a majority of the electors of the consolidated city voting theron at any general or special election: Provided, That no amendment reducing the powers of municipal divisions shall be effective unless ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon in each of a majority of said divisions.

ELKS TROOP No. 5.

A very interesting meeting of the Elks Boy Scout Troop was held at the Elks Home. The meeting was under the leadership of Scoutmaster Davis assisted by Assistant Scoutmaster Hartman.

There was a large attendance of the members and several visitors were at the meeting.

Mr. Davis instructed the boys on First Aid. The main part of his talk was about arterial and vein bleeding, the use of the different bandages and what to do in case of fainting, shock and heat exhaustion.

The Scout Patrol contest is going strong and is expected to continue for five more weeks. The Lions Patrol is leading with 180 points. The White Eagle Patrol is second with 145 points. The Mohawk Patrol is a close second, having 115 points. The newly formed patrol, the Black Bear, is last with 55 points but is expected to gain in time.

Mr. Davis asked the boys if they wanted to hold their Court of Honor with Troop 18 because there is not many receiving awards in Troop 5. He also took the names of the active members of the troop and will forward them to the Y. M. C. A. for membership cards.

The boys who are not attending the meetings regularly are requested to attend them and especially at the next meeting as a new member is to be voted into the troop and a hundred per cent in attendance is requested.

The meeting was closed promptly at 9 o'clock with the usual ceremonies.

Scribe, Alfred Howard.

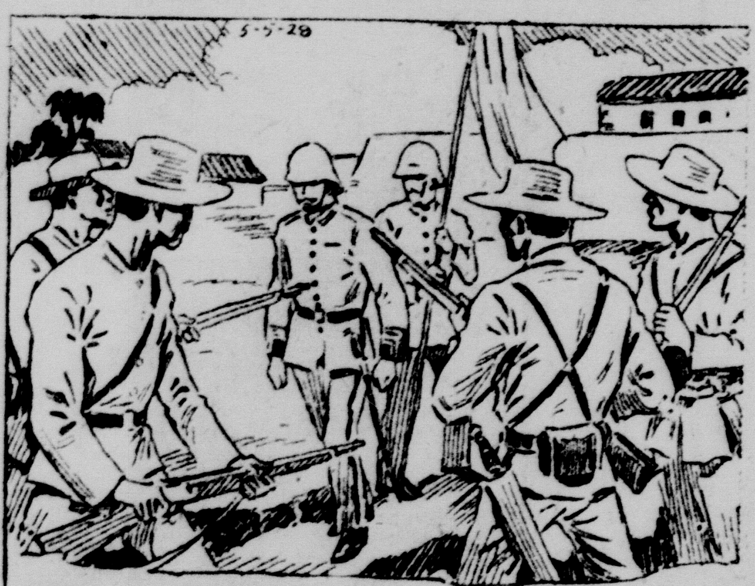
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Philippines As An American Colony Trouble Brewing



IN DECEMBER, 1898, THE SPANISH GARRISON OF ILOILO ON THE ISLAND OF PANAY, THEN THE SECOND CITY OF THE PHILIPPINES, SURRENDERED TO THE FILIPINO INSURGENTS. THE 3,000 PRISONERS WERE TRANSFERRED TO THE ISLAND OF MINDANAO, AND THE VICTORS OCCUPIED THE CITY AND ITS DEFENSES.

SEVERAL DAYS AFTER THE CAPTURE, GEN. MARCUS MILLER WITH AN AMERICAN EXPEDITION FROM MANILA ARRIVED AT ILOILO. BUT THE FILIPINO CHIEFS REFUSED TO PERMIT OUR TROOPS TO LAND UNLESS THEY DISARMED. THE NATIVES PREPARED TO RESIST THE AMERICANS AND BROUGHT REINFORCEMENTS FROM NEGROS AND OTHER NEARBY ISLANDS.

TO MAKE THE POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES ENTIRELY CLEAR, PRESIDENT McKINLEY ADDRESSED A LETTER TO GEN. OTIS TO BE EMBODIED IN A PUBLIC PROCLAMATION TO THE FILIPINOS. IN IT HE DECLARED THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD ENDED SPAIN'S SOVEREIGNTY OVER THE ISLANDS, THAT THE AMERICAN MILITARY GOVERNMENT WOULD BE EXTENDED THROUGH THE ARCHIPELAGO, BUT THAT WE CAME NOT AS CONQUERORS, BUT AS FRIENDS AND PROTECTORS.

THE APPEARANCE OF THIS PROCLAMATION CAUSED GREAT AGITATION. THE NATIVE NEWSPAPERS HINTED OF TROUBLE AND LAUDED THE INSURGENTS OF ILOILO FOR DEFYING THE AMERICANS. AT THE SAME TIME AGUINALDO ISSUED A MANIFESTO, DENYING THAT HE HAD EVER RECOGNIZED AMERICAN SUPREMACY IN THE PHILIPPINES, AND DECLARED HIS INTENTION TO GAIN INDEPENDENCE FOR HIS LAND AND PEOPLE.

Union Gridders Defeat Hickory High 12 To 0

Schiek Scores Two Touchdowns

Clever Union High Quarterback Is Star Of Game On Muddy Field

HICKORY ELEVEN SHOWS STRENGTH

Playing on a muddy gridiron and under a sullen sky, Union High school's football team won from the strong Hickory High outfit from Mercer county by 12-0 score at Scotland Lane Friday afternoon.

The inclement weather conditions had much to do with keeping down the number of spectators. Both Union and the Shenango Valley school sent their representatives to the classic and their cheering throughout the struggle prevented dullness.

Scoring in the game during the third and fourth quarters when Schiek, sterling Union quarterback, took advantage of his opportunities, and galloped to the goal. Once the Union ace circled through his opposition for a beautiful run for a touchdown, after intercepting a Hickory forward pass near the middle of the field. Again from the Sharon team's 30 yard marker he made a sweeping end run for six more points.

Game Hard Fought.

Neither the first or second periods were featured by startling activity. Several passes by both aggregations came near adding additional scores to the standing count in each period, but just when opposition was needed it seemed as if the opposing squad was able to furnish it.

In the first period both Union and Hickory jabbed back and forth. The ball was now here and in a few moments there. Union's passes were long and to the mark, but the necessary vim to send the oval across the barriers in these periods seemed lacking. The playing of McGoun, Hickory's center and Grimm and Hoch, Hickory's backs, featured the quarter. It was these who made possible the Sharon squad's rapid and dangerous advances. Rech who has played at center on the Union line throughout the season but who was placed at fullback in Chill's place in yesterday's struggle continuously proved his worth as a line plunger. Each attack by the new fullback netted Union a three or four yards' gain. Thompson, Union half, was also in the thick of the fight in practically every play and was responsible for many of the blue and white squad's gains.

Schiek Tallies.

Schiek's run for a touchdown in the opening of the third period enlivened the game to the utmost. Hickory High had kicked to Union at the opening of the second half .The ball was returned to their 37 yard line. Thompson of Union advanced four yards. Then Union fumbled and the Sharon boys recovered, only to open a forward attack that brought them to defeat. A Hickory man dropped back to hurl the oval and did so just as Schiek of Union was nearing the ball's destination. Leaping into the air at the 50 yard marker the Union signal barker, noted for his skill, bounced to the ground holding the oval and darted to his opponents line for the first score

A drop kick for the extra point went beneath te bars. Score: Union 6, Hickory 0.

When the final period opened, the Scotland Lane school was in possession of the ball in middle field. A Union back ripped off another five yard gain. The Schiek of Union again pulled back and on a dash through a hole at left tackle cleared opposition and romped almost uninterfered to the goal line.

It looked like another marker for Union but officials called the ball back because a Union man had clipped Hickory's safety from the rear. Union officials protested the return of the ball but Referee Richards only added an extra 15 yards penalty for doing it. Hickory High strengthened to stop the Union attack but on the very first play Schiek scampered around end for 20 yards. Then another Union man added ten yards and it was evident that a touchdown for Union was just ahead. Schiek signalled and drew back to receive the oval. The ball was passed and the sturdy quarter circled right end in the closing minutes of the game for the other score. The try for extra point failed.

The teams returned for the kickoff but the final whistle sounded and the game ended. Final count ,Union 12, Hickory 0.

Rivals Hope To Land Knockout

Fans Eager To See "Punch Carnival" at Bowl Monday Night

HYBERT AND FIRPO IN GOOD CONDITION

By ED. FRITZ

Floyd Hybert and Henry Firpo, well-known exponents of the art of bustin' noses, will again display their pugilistic ability Monday night at Jolly Bowl, and owing to the deep-seated rivalry and much-mooted question as to "Who's Who", it is anticipated that several thousand persons who like "beef served rare" will convene for the evening's evenin', which should be fraught with thrills and thrills.

While the elite of the fistic populace is devouring the sight with punch-crazed eyes, the dramatis personae no doubt will be abundantly supplied with aches and pains, as the welterweights are reported to be in "Dick Merriwell" condition. They are listed for a 10-round drama in punch but in affairs of this kind one error on the part of either combatant is apt to turn a prospective winner into a defeated gladiator.

Chockful of Confidence

The welterweights staged one rather interesting setto here October 8, and since that date Hybert and Firpo have reposed in a bellicose state of mind. Both have aristocratic ideas concerning their ability, and it appears very much as though each will disport an imperious attitude when Signor Pete Capitola taps the bell. Firpo believes that he was the victim of a "rooters' club" decision October 8, whereas Hybert is of the opinion that having won one decision he must live up to it by winning a second time. This augurs well for fandom, that portion of the fistic colony that pays the freight to see fistic tidbits.

During the past week the Ashtabula Swede, who is Hybert, has been training in the gymnasium of Eddie Mead, former manager of Joe Lynch, who was bantamweight champion. Firpo has been "dolling up" at the Jimmie Dunn gymnasium, which brings to us the recollection that even Mead and Dunn are rivals. This readily can be understood when we rise to state that when Mead towed Lynch around the nation he refused to give Dunn's great little bantam, Carl Tremaine, a chance at the championship. This has sort of added fuel to the fire, and as advisers the managers will fight a "battle of wits".

Substitutes for Lupica

Firpo will arrive Sunday afternoon. Hybert will reach here late Sunday night or early Monday morning. They will weigh in at 156 pounds, higher than the welterweight limit, at three o'clock, then rest until the bell rings. It is not yet known if Harvey Boyle, a commissioner, will send a referee and judges here to officiate.

While Hybert and Firpo are the principals in the drama of punch, Joey Goodman, Norfolk, and Jack Keller, junior lighties', will battle in the six-round semi-final. Goodman turned o'er his first foe like a squally sea does a canoe and followed it up with a knockout over Jack McFarland. Keller may give him trouble. He is from Toledo and will substitute for Tony Lupica.

In a six-round prelim the dancin' kid, Frankie Rio, who shoots an effluent left hook, will take on Louie Adair, another of the Toledo clique. Frankie hasn't appeared here in several weeks and probability is he will, as usual, give a good account of himself. They will box at 130 pounds.

Building Has Floor

Tommy O'Leary, a former slate picker from Luzerne, Pa., vicinity of Wilkes-Barre, where all the coal company houses are painted red, will take on Bernie Dugan at 122 pounds. Dugan also hails from Toledo, and if Dugan can fight as good as Itovino he and O'Leary should keep the fans on Nervous avenue.

And in chronicling among those present let us not forget Elmo the Mighty, the idol of the fans. He is docketed to fight one Steve Brown. Having defeated "Ernie" Brown of bay window fame, almost a year ago, he believes he can whip anybody by that name and hopes to earn his $40 or whatever it is as quickly as possible.

During the week a floor has been built in the bowl and the chill wind that swept cold blasts against ankles will not be felt. Big heaters also have been installed and the bowl, which once looked like a wooden cup, has been improved in appearance.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Johnny Dougherty, ex-sailor and a resident of the West Side, yearns for fistic action at the Jolly bowl. While in Uncle Sam's naval force he fought 11 times. Oscar Gardner would also like to show. He hasn't fought since the Old Armory bouts ended. Roy Minteer, who gave Young Itovino a good fight, also wants to return to the bowl and Dan Williams, South Side, says he has a couple of other faces he would like to show.

Babe Picato, junior lightweight, back from the Pacific coast, would like to appear at the bowl and today Al Lippe, manager of the fast Midget Wolgast, sent an open challenge to Johnny McCoy. The Midget showed here against Lou Goldberg and buffeted him like a toy. There is no question as to his class. Lippe brought Battling Levinsky, Al Friedman and Goldman here.

Jim Buchanan confirmed reports which reached the writer recently that Willie Davies hopes to leave his banner. It is reported that Davies departed for Cleveland after he fought Johnny McCoy here. During their presence here it was noticeable that all was not satisfactory between manager and boxer. It is said that Teddy Hayes, associate of Jack Kearns, is dealing with Davies. Jim will try to hold Davies to a contract he claims he possesses.

Johnny Slate and Roy Minteer will fight at Meadville Monday night. Roy would have preferred fighting here. He gave Itovino a real fight and should have had the decision. He was one battler whom Itovino didn't knock down and every time Itovino rushed in his southpaw style he got smashed with a right hand punch on the jaw. Roy is a wee bit tougher than some people imagine.

It is reported that Frankie Wine, light-heavyweight, will appear here soon. The Jolly bowl tried to get Sandy Seifert but satisfactory financial terms could not be made. Sandy, who has been a loser lately, wanted New Castle and part of Neshannock township thrown in as a bonus. Emmett Rocco could have fought Wine but he chose to battle Joe Sekyra in Youngstown. It is said that efforts are being made to land Otto Von Porta the Swede but this is unlikely of success as Otto is a "big money" shot. If he does come, fans will see a good boy.

Notre Dame Is Favored To Win Over Penn State

Nittany Lions Hopeful Of Stopping Attack Of Irish In Philadelphia

LOOK FOR CROWD OF FIFTY THOUSAND

By MALCOLM ROY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 3.—This not so staid old Quaker town loses today the distinction it has enjoyed to the exclusion of virtually every other football center in the country as the one city in which Notre Dame's vigorous and verile eleven has never been seen in action. All this will be changed this afternoon when Knute Rockne and his Nomads invade the Franklin field gridiron for a battle with the Penn State Nittany Lions.

Notre Dame, with a team that has had a surprising number of ups and downs for a Rockne eleven, clashes with a team which is just beginning to throb with something like its old time football power after disastrous defeats at the hands of Bucknell and Pennsylvania.

Notre Dame Favored.

Rockne's Nomads are expected to defeat State College but no top-heavy score is looked for in spite of comparative scores through Navy and Pennsylvania which give Notre Dame quite an edge.

Notre Dame defeated Navy by a single touchdown at Chicago three weeks ago and a fortnight back Pennsylvania defeated State 14 to 0. Then last week, Navy trounced Pennsylvania by the margin of a single touchdown, Penn going scoreless. However, while Penn State showed remarkable recuperative powers by holding the admittedly strong Syracuse eleven to a 6 to 6 tie score, Notre Dame suffered a withering defeat at the hands of Georgia Tech since the victory over Navy.

Look For Crowd.

None of this, however, detracts from the interest that has been aroused by the coming of the Nomads and more than 50,000 football fans will crowd Franklin field for the fray. Rockne and his green-jerseyed, silk-pantalooned eleven have proved themselves again to be a huge box office lure even in this virgin territory, and Philadelphia is looking forward expectantly to see the Nomads installed here as an annual attraction.

Victory for Penn State over Notre Dame would go far towards making State's season a successful one, which it has not been to date, and Hugo Bezdek may be expected to spring a surprise on Rockne in this game for which he has been pointing the Nittany eleven all along.

A lot of people are setting out to dazzle the world, and many of them do it by the glaring headlights on their automobiles.—The Muncie Morning Star.

FOUR FLEET FLASHES BY FEG MURRAY

HOWARD HARPSTER OF CARNEGIE TECH. —ANOTHER FINE PASSER.
"DYNAMIC DON" WILLIAMS OF U.S.C.
"SPUD" LEWIS OF STANFORD. LATEST COAST SENSATION
Feg Murray
HAL BAYSINGER. OF SYRACUSE, ONE OF THE GREATEST FORWARD PASSERS IN THE COUNTRY.
—AND THAT AINT HALF OF 'EM!

Here are four "Gentlemen of the Pass" who come from widely separated areas of the country, but who, if combined in one backfield, would delight the heart of any coach. They have also in common the fact that they usually play quarterback.

"Spud" Lewis, of Stanford University, was a quarter two years ago, and sort of dropped out of sight last season, but in the game with Idaho on October 19th last, "Pop" Warner put him in as a halfback and he proceeded to tear through the Vandals for four touchdowns in the second half and converted each one. (Each touchdown, not each Vandal!) He was simply unstopable, according to Brick Morse, former Princeton All-American, and became overnight the sensation of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Two of the best passers in the country today are Howard Harpster, of Carnegie Tech, and Hal Baysinger, of Syracuse. They take to the air like a Friedman, an Oberlander, or a Muller and it's a pity that Tech and Syracuse don't meet, as it would be a meeting worth going a mile to see just because of the Harpster-Baysinger passing duel.

Hal "Skinny" Baysinger has been the mainstay of the Orange eleven for the last three seasons, and has completed many a long pass for big gains. He was one of the biggest "cut-ups" in the alleged rough and tumble Syracuse-Army game two years ago, which resulted in the two schools severing athletic relations. Against Nebraska this year Hal completed fifteen out of thirty passes for a gain of 240 yards.

Like Baysinger, Harpster comes from Akron, Ohio. He was a big factor in the "Skibos'" victory over Washington and Jefferson, and as quarterback of the team has done much to make the Tech boys a credit to Pittsburgh and Coach Steffen.

Don Williams, who is being groomed to wear the shoes of the famous Morton Kaer and Morley Drury at the University of Southern California, is a versatile player, who, though not so large and powerful as Drury, makes up for his lack of beef in speed, agility, and brains. He can pass, kick, and run, and is especially good at finding an opening in a line and slithering his way through it. "Dynamic Don" is well named, for his lightning speed, powerful drive, and inspirational qualities as a field general are seldom found combined in one quarterback.

Strawberry Tucker is the name of a football player at Memphis Teachers' College. He won't play on Sundae, as he's always getting in a jam.

Ben Franklin High Trims Washington

Fast Attack In Fourth Quarter Gives Franklin High Victory Of 19-0

Fabian Features With Run Of 55 Yards For Touchdown; May Play Again

Franklin Field was a sea of mud yesterday afternoon as the Ben Franklin Junior High school football team plowed their way to a 19 to 0 victory over the George Washington Junior High team. By virtue of the Franklin victory the Junior league championship is deadlocked.

In the previous meeting of the two Junior High elevens the George Washington team emerged victorious with a 6 to 0 count when Kay caught a forward pass and went for a touchdown but things were different yesterday on an extremely muddy field. The weight of the Franklin team told a lot, and although the Washington High team tried hard the massive strength was against them.

Coaches Norton and Gillaspie started their regulars in the first quarter, and the game was highly interesting with Washington High team having the best of the argument. The Franklinites were slow in getting started, and had it not been such a muddy field the newly organized Washington team might have had a few touchdowns to their credit in the first period. The first quarter ended 0-0.

No Scores First Half

The second quarter found the Washington High team ripping through the Norton coached team for large gains at frequent intervals, but at critical points in the game fumbles and intercepted forward passes kept Washington High from threatening the Franklin goal-line. Sotus and Kay were performing brilliantly for the Washington team, and Fabian and Watson were the big guns for the Franklin eleven in the first two periods.

The play for the greater part of the first half was in Franklin territory, with the Washingtonites unable to gain that extra yardage that might have given them a touchdown. The first half ended 0-0.

Fabian Tallies

The third period found the Franklin team with imbued spirit and fighting mad. It was quite evident to the average spectator that the Washington team was weakening under the terrific hammering of their heavier opponents. Coach Gillaspie was forced to make several substitutions in his lineup due to injuries. The Franklin team was more fortunate in regard to injuries, with only a few substitutes finding their way into the lineup. The Franklin team clearly outplayed their opponents in the third quarter but still no scores were made. The third session ended 0-0.

About one minute after the fourth quarter had started, the Washington High team had the ball on their own 48-yard line. Uram attempted a trick forward pass and Fred Fabian the alert Franklin fullback raced under the ball, snuggled it to his breast and was down the field like a flash. Fabian outdistanced his field of rivals and planted the ball behind the Washington goal-line. The play netted Fabian a distance of 55-yards. It was a tough break for the nobly battling Washington team. Franklin's offort for an extra point was no good. Franklin 6, Washington 0.

Watson Plunges Over

The play and touchdown by Fabian gave the Franklin team new life and it was not long afterwards that Kranklin gained possession of the ball and started a steady march to the goal-line that resulted in "Baldy" Watson plunging the pigskin over from the 1-foot line. The Washington team contested every inch of the ground, but they were weakening under the strain. Fabian and Watson were big factors in the drive down the field that resulted in the second touchdown. Ostrosky the little Franklin drop-kicker booted the ball over the bar for an extra point after Watson's effort at a touchdown was successful. Franklin 13, Washington 0

The Franklin team was unstoppable at this juncture in the game, and with two touchdowns and a victory within their grasp, ripped through the Washington line for several substantial gains that finally gave them the ball again on the 1-yard line, but a costly fumble resulted from over anxiousness and Kay the Washington kicker was forced to drop back of his own goal-line to punt, the kick was blocked by Gergon the Franklin right tackle and Regan fell on the ball back of the Washington goal-line for the third touchdown. The attempt for another point was blocked.

The teams were battling in the middle of the field when the game ended.

New York City Girl 15 Years Old Is Believed Attacked And Slain

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Staten Island police today questioned several "boy friends" of Alice Joost, pretty fifteen-year-old brunette who was found murdered last night in her bedroom at Port Richmond. The boys being questioned are members of the Sophomore class at the Port Richmond High school, of which the girl was a member.

The girl's mother, who spent the evening away from home, said her daughter had no enemies. Miss Joost had been struck on the head with a blunt instrument and garroted by a piece of insulated wire cord. Police said she had been attacked.

An autopsy was to be performed later.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury to Woodrow Wilson's cabinet will vote for Governor Alfred E. Smith in the presidential election according to a telegram just received here from McAdoo by his personal friend Thos. J. Hamilton, publisher of the Augusta Chronicle.

The telegram follows:

"Replying to your telegram, am opposed to Govenror Smith's stand on prohibition and the eighteenth amendment but I will preserve my party allegiance."

There would be just as many divorces in rural sections if separation required the sacrifice of nothing except three installments on the furniture.

HERE'S HOW TROJAN CENTERS LEARN TO PASS BALL

Accuracy in passing the ball to the backfield is learned by candidates for center on the Southern California squad by this novel method. Three rookie centers are shown passing the ball back and trying to score bullseyes through two holes cut in a thick canvas sheet hung behind them. When the boys become proficient at this the team doesn't have to worry about bad passes from center anymore.

Name Control Board Before Chest Drive

Officers Of New Wilmington Chest Elected; Other News Notes

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 3.—Meeting before the start of the drive for funds, the directors of the local Community Chest fund named the following persons to officiate as the board of control for the coming year: Mrs. W. R. Thompson, Dr. C. J. Smyser, Rev. Ralph J. Neale, T. Minner, J. W. Williamson, L. Wible and Miss Della Glenn.

Great progress has been made in this year's drive which is on now, but the goal had not been reached by last night. Today is the last day of the drive, but the directors are confident that they will get all the money needed.

NEW WILMINGTON NOTES

This afternoon the members of the Jean Morrison circle of the local U. P. church are meeting at the home of Miss Corinne Shott. A special program was arranged for this meeting.

Sunday morning the Rev. George H. Bucher of Princeton, N. J., will preach in the local Presbyterian church. The Rev. John Orr will occupy the pulpit of the United Presbyterian church and the Rev. V. L. Bloomquist will minister to his Methodist congregation.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyd left here Thursday on an automobile trip to Pittsburgh. Mr. Boyd returned last night but Mrs. Boyd will continue to visit friends and relatives until Sunday.

The Rev. Ralph J. Neale has recovered almost entirely from an attack of grippe, but his physician has not yet allowed him to return to his work.

N. Y. STOCKS

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Tremendous country-wide interest in the oil stocks has been stirred up by the powerful and sweeping advances in the well-known Standard and independent oil shares. This was evidenced by the lively scramble for Sinclair, Pan American, Marland, Standard of New Jersey and Texas Corporation in the short session of the market today.

In Wall street, definite announcement of a new consolidation affecting Sinclair, Prairie Oil Marland and other well known companies is expected in a comparatively short time. Sinclair retained its position today as the most active stock on the board, with heavy trading between 42 and 43. Pan American B rose 2 points to above 53, and Marland duplicated its high for the year at 46⅜.

The weekly trade reviews reported a good increase in retail trade, which was favorably affected by the colder weather at the interior points, stocks of the merchandising companies were in good demand, with Woolworth the feature. This sold above 207, the highest price in the history of the company.

The theatrical and amusement stocks forged to the front in the second hour, under the lead of Warner Brothers. Shubert and Keith Albee were active and firm. The new talking movie is reported to have received country-wide acclaim, and the demand for the stock of successful companies has steadily expanded. Warner sold today above 124, up 3 points. Kolster Radio another star performer in this group, settled back under profit taking.

With but one full session of the market before election, many of the big traders were in a cautious frame of mind. Irregularities developed in the motors, coppers and other important groups of stocks in the second hour. Offerings of Radio, U. S. Steel, General Motors and other pivotal stocks came on the market in good volume and prices drifted downward as the session advanced.

Interest in Kelly Springfield Tire was stimulated by reports that the control of the company may have passed to new hands.

Buying of Kelly Springfield, fractionally above 22 was in good volume today.

The rails were steady but inactive. Erie and Missouri Pacific led the activity in the non-dividend group and New York Central in the investment rails. Coppers were dull and heavy and utilities firm.

Weekly Review Of New York Market

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The stock market this week exhibited the usual pre-election nervousness and uneasiness, violent fluctuations in the higher priced stocks at mid-week being followed by sharp rallies in the later sessions, for which the "running in of the shorts" was held partly reported.

Stock trading in three of the seasons fell 1,000,000 shares below the average full day trading record of 4,500,000 shares established between the middle of August and the last week in Octobr, and the interest in the demand for the better grade of investment dividend-paying stock showed conclusively that the "bargain hunters" were ready to accumulate their favorite stock at conclusions of a few points.

The new increase of $135,000,000 in brokers' loans for the week was not surprising, in view of the sweeping advances that have taken place in a number of the high priced speculative favorites since last Wednesday. But Wall street has adopted the view that increasing brokers borrowings "do not mean anything" at a time like this, when country wide speculative frenzy is at its height and millions of new traders are actively proceeding in the activities of the market.

The Federal Reserve Board's weekly report showed that th banks were still purchasing bankers acceptances in the open market as a method of supplementing the banks' credit supplies, but bankers look for a curtailment if not a distance of the policy by the end of November, after which time the credit requirements of the agricultural districts will be smaller. Call money was in good supply, with outside sources furnishing the same amount as the New York banks withdraw.

The favorable reports of industrial corporations particularly the steel- copper and motor companies stimulated a powerful buying demand for the stocks of representative corporations and when prices declined on short selling to the low levels of the week, the brokers with buying observers struggling with each other on the floor of the exchange to pick up stocks on the most favorable basis.

Stock market activity centered in the steel, copper, oil, motor, equipment and a number of the well known railroad shares. International Nickel was driven forward brilliantly to a new high price above 194 as merger and consolidation plans with the Consolidated Mound Nickel company reached an advance stage. Assurance of a new melon--cutting for General Motors' stockholders on November 12 was the important factor behind the buying of that stock this week and by far the smallest proportion of the stock sold changed hands at the low prices of the week.

Following the announcement of the election of Arthur Cutten as a director of the Sinclair Consolidated Company that stock was in extremely heavy demand and sold above 42 for the first time in seven years. The popular Standard Oil and a number of the well known independents boomed along with the reported improvement in the Petroleum markets.

The commodity markets were generally steady with higher prices in the metal and food stuffs division, cotton was irregular, with Hedge selling offsetting the effect of the bad weather in th cotton belt⅜

Latest Model Oakland Car Is On Display

Marino Motor Company Displays Latest Model Of Oakland All-American Six

Completely new and original in appearance, with a host of advanced engineering features, the latest Oakland All-American Six went on display here today at the showrooms of the Marino Motor Co., 116 N. Mercer St., local Oakland and Pontiac dealer.

Smarter, roomier than a year ago, with bodies of distinctive design, and a chassis said to be the last word in mechanical refinement, the latest All-American model bears only a passing resemblance to its famous predecessor—the first All-American Six brought out by the Oakland Motor Car Company a year ago.

Briefly, the new line offers a bigger, faster, more powerful engine; new Oakland type internal expanding 4-wheel brakes; masterful body creations by Fisher; new duco color combinations; higher, larger cross-flow radiator with grill front; adjustable driver's seat; chrome plated lamps of new designs; sturdy ten-spoke wheels; Lovejoy shock absorbers and spring covers as standard equipment; new steering gear; sturdier frame, and a host of other improvements that are destined to make the car a distinguished addition to the aristocratic motor car family of America.

A new and exclusive Oakland feature is the four-point rubber engine mounting adopted on this model. By means of special rubber "biscuits" which insulate the engine from the frame, there is no metal-to-metal contact, a feature which eliminates noise and engine vibration.

Other features contributing to better performance are permanent mould type semi-steel pistons combining lightness with long wear; an improved oiling system to assure better lubrication of cylinder walls, piston and pins; larger oil pump which circulates 200 gallons of oil every sixty minutes at 25 miles an hour; larger carburetor and manifold; more rigidly supported transmission housing, and latest improved AC air cleaner consisting of a chamber filled with copper shavings dipped in oil.

The striking new beauty of this latest All-American, and the better stamina and performance built into the sturdier engine and improved chassis, lends confidence of the Marino Motor Co. that the car will prove the most successful Oakland brought out since the organization of the company.

Brief Outline Of 14 Amendments To Be Voted On

HARRISBURG, Nov. 2.—"There will be an unprecedented vote cast in every precinct in the state on November 6. In a majority of the precincts it is impossible to provide facilities fully adequate to accommodate a rush of voters. The ballot is larger than ever before, due to the fact that 14 proposed amendments to the state constitution are submitted to be voted upon separately.

Here is an outline of what the amendments provide:

1—Gives the commonwealth the option of doing its own printing and binding, and a similar option in supplying furnishings, fuel, paper and stationery.

2—Authorizes the legislature to borrow $8,000,000 for erection and equipment of buildings at State College.

3—Authorizes the legislature to borrow $25,000,000 for the purchase of additional forest lands.

4—Authorizes the legislature to borrow $5,000,000 for armory construction.

5—Permits the legislature to provide general exemptions from inheritance taxes.

6—Permits courts of quarter sessions to divide and change election districts without regard to the number of electors. This amendment is essential to the use of voting machines.

7—Authorizes the legislature to permit Pittsburgh to levy special assessments against properties benefited by public improvements, even though they do not abut.

8—Raises the debt limit of second class cities from seven to ten per cent of the assessed valuation.

9—Authorizes the legislature to borrow an additional $50,000,000 for improving and rebuilding highways.

10—Authorizes the legislature to borrow $50,000,000 for lands and buildings for state-owned penal, correctional and mental institutions.

11—Raises Philadelphia's debt limit from 10 per cent of the taxable property (real and personal to 14 per cent of the taxable real estate and raises the limit of councilmanic loans from two to three per cent.

12—Permits reciprocal tax exemptions to residents of other states.

13—Permits the legislature to authorize the use of voting machines by community option.

14—Permits the legislature to allow the creation of metropolitan Pittsburgh by consolidation.

Editor's Note—We believe the above tells the story of the amendments in the least space possible to make their exact meanings clear. Its reproduction should be a real service to the voter who wants to consider each on its own merit. Make a not of how you want to vote and take it to the polls.

HUSBAND AN' WIFE GOIN' T' WOORK

"I've been watchin' women all my life, fer a period, I might say, coverin' well over three-quarters o' a century, a period beginnin' with th' broad-backed, full-chinned, square-jawed heroines o' pioneer days in th' middle west. I've been hooked up with one fer over seventy years, an' I'm prepared t' state that ther now fully equipped an' capable o' runnin' th' country," declared Uncle Ez Pash, over a hundred, t'day. "Woman has won her spurs fairly an' squarely," said Mr. Pash, as he rubbed shoe polish well int' th' roots o' his neatly cropped chin whiskers, "an' us men hain't got nobuddy t' blame but ourselves fer th' almost unbelievable strides they've made in th' last few years, years jammed with economic upheavals an' social readjustments. It's safe t' say that in them years eight weddin's out o' ten threw eight women on ther own resources. Worthless husbands, an' woman's craze fer finery, have fairly driven women into th' gainful occupations. Notin' what ther elder sisters have done an' are doin', girls no longer whine around home makin' over ole hats, an' shortenin' skirts, an' waitin' fer th' right worthless scamp t' come along an' woo 'em. Ther no longer content t' try t' dress on th' meager allowances o' parents. Mothers used t' step back at thirty-five an' let ther daughters shine, but nowadays when mother an' daughter both step out somebuddy's got t' suffer. Th' girl o' t'day jumps int' business fer herself, an' makes her own payments on diamonds an' furs. Fer years th' farmer's wife had t' share her egg money with th' family, an' many a city mother depended on sellin' an ole overcoat, or a pair o' used trousers, fer her pin money. In other days ther wuz nothin' fer th' bereft wife an' mother t' do but take in washin', but t'day she kin fall back on her profession. Th' success o' women an' girls o' t'day is reflected in ther pumps an' hose, ther elevated chins, an' clean-shaven necks. Will women succeed in politics? She will or wreck our system o' gover'ment. She excels at everthing else, even elephant trainin' an' bareback ridin'. It's all a feller kin do t' get a job with a circus any more, an' most theater shows carry seventy women an' nine men. Women lead in church work, wine makin' bridge, diplomacy, hog callin', housework when driven t' it, lecturin', spirituality, swimmin', home wreckin', floriculture, hypnotism, salesmanship, cookin' when she's put t' it, in all th' blindfold tests, gossipin', reducin', double-crossin', screen work, swingin' by th' teeth, sellin' ole furniture, brow-beatin' laundry an' milk men, parachute droppin' an' flirtin'. I don't know o' nothin' women don't seem t' take t' naturally 'cept housework, spittin', an' bricklayin'. Somethin's come over women. We never see any little, meek, tired out wives limpin' out t' meet ther husbands at th' close o' th' day, an' we never see 'em follerin' husbands out o' th' house in th' mornin's an' throwin' kisses after 'em like we used t'. Most modern matrimonial hook ups are cold-nosed commercial partnerships. Th' first up gits breakfast, an' th' last one out locks up."

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—November 3 is expected to be the central date of a period of seasonably warm temperatures and about normal temperatures; drop in average temperatures expected to center on 4 will not be severe, but will be followed by the last warm wave of this Indian Summer period. A storm wave of mild intensity will cross continent during week centering on 6 and, following this storm center, general weather features will take on more of a wintry aspect. While average temperatures of November are expected to be above normal, cold waves centering on 14 and 26 will cause periods centering on those dates to average considerably below normal temperatures. Precipitation of month is expected to decrease generally over the continent, be below normal for the month and to fall mostly in areas east of the middle of Great Central valleys; distribution of precipitation this month will not average favorable to winter grains, altho the month of November will be considered as favorable, as during following months, large areas of winter grains will show conditions too dry. Storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 11 will be of moderate force, will cause moderate local precipitation in east half of continent and storm center will be expected to bring in one of the two principal cold waves of month.

Changing Knowledge.

As time and progress change what were supposed facts, many theories are exploded, others supported. Until recently, the planet Venus, one of the Earth's closest neighbors, was supposed to rotate on its axis once in about 225 days; recent ultra-violet light photographs by Dr. F. E. Ross at Mt. Wilson observatory show that the probable day of Venus is 30 of our days. A recent release of the Associated Press states that an Englishman claims that he has discovered a metal that does not act in accord with known laws of gravitation, but, when a sheet of this metal is placed above a sheet of the same metal, the top piece floats in the air. Unless this man has discovered a metal with properties similar to those radio-active, his discovery will turn out to be similar to the oft-invented perpetual motion, the 225 day rotation of Venus or the commercialization of the fuelless motor. We are living in an age when there is almost no such thing as an impossibility, but when one claims to have overcome the laws of nature it is time to be skeptical. Only thru the possession of a force now unknown could a metal act as claimed above.

CONGRESSMAN SWICK'S SPEECHES

In Thursday's Butler Eagle I note that Congressman Swick says he has just completed delivering "a number of campaign speeches" in Maryland. This news will give the voters of the Twenty-sixth Congressional District a great surprise. These voters know that I requested Congressman Swick to meet me in a number of public discussions of the issues of this campaign and that he refused to grant the request.

Those who know Congressman Swick well will be surprised to learn that he has been making "a number of campaign speeches" in Maryland or anywhere else. Those who know him well say he had a very "compelling" reason for not discussing the issues of this campaign in his own Congressional District and that it was not the reason he gave in refusing my request.

But Maryland is a great state. It is first in many things, and it seems to be first in ability to be favored with Congressman Swick's campaign speeches.
